Polynesian Flyer looms as odds-on favorite

Polynesian Flyer, named Oregon's Horse of the Year for 1984, looms as the odds-on favorite in Saturday's Preview Stakes, the second leg of the $40,000 Oregon-Bred Triple Crown.

The Preview, a mile for $10,000-added, will see The Flyer going for leg fifth stakes victory of the meeting for owners George and Dorothy Grimm of Bremerton, WA. One of the three-year-old roan's wins came in the $22,000 Oregon Thoroughbred Futurity Dec. 15 — the first leg of the Triple Crown.

A score in the Preview and then the $15,000-added Oregon Derby April 6, would give Polynesian Flyer the Triple Crown and the $40,000 bonus offered by the Oregon Thoroughbred Breeders Association. Trainer A. T. (Tex) Irwin of Battleground is expected to name Buford Mills Jr., the leading rider of the meet, for the ride on his multi-stakes winner Saturday.

The $15,000-added Salem Handicap for older fillies and mares is scheduled to be run Sunday over a mile and one-sixteenth. The handicap will highlight Salem Day at the races.

Another Saturday event will be the $3,500-added Donna Jensen Handicap for quarter horse fillies and Pauline Copeland of Salem, Oregon, will try to extend her winning streak in the 400-yard dash. Four of her wins have come in stakes races including the Oregon Juvenile.

Buford Mills Jr. continues to lead the jockey standings with 58 wins, but the rider making the most news last week was 17-year-old apprentice

Kevin Davidson of Ridgefield. Young Kevin booted home a half-dozen winners since shipping in from Golden Gate.

The twin trifecta, a new exotic wager, got off to a good start last weekend building a jackpot of nearly $5,700 after two days.

Budweiser will be a major sponsor of a two-hour television special on Black athletes entitled "A Hard Road to Glory." The program will trace the history of the Black athlete from early days in Africa, through early years in America to today. It is based on the research of tennis great Arthur Ashe who will host the program. From left at Madison Square Garden sports hall of fame are Henry H. Brown, vice president of marketing development and affairs at Anheuser-Busch, Inc., the brewer of Budweiser; Ashe; and U.S. Olympic Gold Medalist (boxing) Henry Tillman. The program is being produced by ProServ Television and is scheduled to air in mid-spring.

INTRODUCING THE NEW GI BILL PLUS THE NEW ARMY COLLEGE FUND. AN INVITATION TO SERVE YOUR COUNTRY AND CAPTURE UP TO $25,200 FOR COLLEGE.

Job seekers can receiving training

Highland Community Services is presently offering training for Job Seeking Skills. The program is geared to assist those individuals who need to improve in the areas of interviewing techniques, resume writing, completion of employment applications, relaxation techniques for test taking skills, proper dress, time management, vocational and career counseling, positive attitudes, and employment referrals. This program is geared to last one month, meeting twice a week, Mondays and Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

If you are serious about improving your skills, allow us to help. The program is free to the public. If you wish to sign up, contact Ransom Eddings, at Highland Community Services, 287-9623.

On July 1st, the Army will introduce two educational programs that could enrich your finances as well as your mind.

If you have plans for college, these programs can change the way you plan to pay; and if you hadn't planned on going, they could change your plans completely.

They're called the New GI Bill Plus the New Army College Fund. And if you think the titles are big, wait'll you see the benefits.

MONEY FOR COLLEGE

With the New GI Bill Plus the New Army College Fund, you can earn up to $25,200 while you serve. Here's how:

First, you contribute to your education—$100 per month for the first twelve months of your enlistment.

Then the government contributes—up to $9600. That's what the New GI Bill's really all about.

Then the Army contributes up to $14,400—courtesy of the New Army College Fund.

Of course, how much you save depends on how long you serve and the specialty you qualify for; right now, there are over 80 specialties that entitle you to benefit from both programs. For maximum returns, see the chart.

GET AN EDUCATION BEFORE YOU GET TO COLLEGE

It's called the Army experience. And with every sunrise run and field exercise, night patrol and pat on the back, you'll learn about the kinds of things no one can put a price on: self-reliance and discipline. Teamwork and pride.

THE REWARDS OF BEING A SOLDIER

They go far beyond the chance to earn money for college. And include the opportunity to serve your country.

As well as the opportunity to see it—and perhaps other countries, too. For as a soldier, you'll have the chance to travel; to meet people, make new friends and visit places you may never have thought you'd see.

You'll also have the opportunity to grow before you attend college. So that you can get the most out of it when you decide to go.

Plus, there's the opportunity to get into the best physical shape of your life—thanks to our Physical Training program.

By now you may be getting the impression that the New GI Bill Plus the New Army College Fund present all kinds of opportunities (and you're right); unfortunately, there isn't all kinds of room left to describe them.

YEARS	NEW GI BILL	THE NEW GI BILL PLUS THE NEW ACF
2	$9,000	$17,000
3	$10,800	$22,800
4	$10,800	$25,200

So if you'd like the opportunity to learn more about our opportunities, visit your local Army Recruiter. Or call, toll free, 1-800-USA-ARMY.
