

Debbie Gardner (Jr., Lincoln), Arneli Brown (Jr., Wilson), Melissa Jackson (Jr., Lincoln) and Aida Teferi (Jr., Lincoln) look at yearbooks from the Black colleges that took part in the Sixth Annual Black Colleges Conference.

The conference held Saturday at the Jantzen Beach Red Lion attracted over 200 parents and students from Oregon and Washington. (Photo: Richard J. Brown)

When Oregon Labor Commissioner Mary Wendy Roberts agreed to speak at the dedication of the new Kaiser Permanente Rockwood Medical Offices, near Gresham, she didn't anticipate being its first patient. During her speech, she mentioned that a tetanus shot had been prescribed as a result of a minor injury that morning. Mary Kinoshita, R.N., was happy to oblige — after the speech, of course.

IF YOU THINK ALL
HEALTH CARE PEOPLE ARE:

QUALIFIED CARING COMMITTED EXPERIENCED FRIENDLY THOROUGH UNDERSTANDING AND EFFICIENT

YOU ALREADY USE THIS:

Congratulations. As a member of Kaiser Permanente, you've discovered the reasons behind our success.

People who care.

Sure, Kaiser Permanente's other 4.8 million members may talk about our medical facilities. Comment on our convenient hours. Or simply state how wonderful it is to have their health needs taken care of in one monthly payment.

But you know better. You know it's the people of Kaiser Permanente who really make a difference.

Qualified specialists and primary care physicians. Nurses and technicians with up-to-date training. People who live up to Kaiser Permanente's standards. Every single day.

If you have friends who are still looking for this kind of health care, this kind of commitment, why not give them our number. We'd be delighted to have their name on one of our cards.

We're Kaiser Permanente. The health care plan. The health caring people.

Portland (503) 280-2931
Salem (503) 370-4300
Longview/Kelso (206) 636-6211

KAISER PERMANENTE
The health care plan. The health caring people.