VEHICLE EMISSIONS INSPECTOR

$1058 - $1256 MONTHLY

The Department of Environmental Quality currently has several openings for Vehicle Emissions Inspectors throughout the Portland Metropolitan area.

To qualify, the applicant must have the following:

- Knowledge of common automotive systems terminology and technology
- Skills in written English sufficient to understand semi-technical manuals & regulations, and to accurately and legibly record test results and keep simple records.
- Ability to work effectively with the general public and to maintain decorum in contacts with hostile motorists
- Ability to learn emission standards applicable to the most common vehicles, and to use standard reference materials efficiently

In addition, the applicant must have the physical ability to bend, stoop and kneel frequently; to walk and stand for several hours; to tolerate automotive fumes; and the visual ability to read license numbers and digital display screens, and to detect exhaust smoke.

The regular work week for these positions is Tuesday thru Saturday. If you are interested in applying, contact the nearest Oregon State Employment Division office by Friday, February 7, 1986. Interviews will be scheduled only for those individuals referred by the Employment Division.
