The first president to accept his party's nomination with a speech at the party convention was Franklin D. Roosevelt, who flew from Albany to Chicago in 1932.

"I thought they should put in more parking at my branch. They did!"

"Their checking fees were low. And they've kept them that way."

"I wanted to refinance. They were one of the few who would work with me, even though they were so busy."

You Talked. We Listened.

Since March of 1985, we've been making changes. We've added more tellers during peak hours. Streamlined procedures for opening new accounts. Developed regional lending centers to meet local needs. Remodeled one third of our branches to make The Benj. Franklin a better place to bank. Instituted 100 policy changes that have made banking easier. And more. All part of our commitment to "Plain Talk, Easy Banking."

A lot of these changes were a result of our "Talk Back" program. This direct line to our chairman let customers tell us how we could improve. Or, as in many cases, why we should keep doing the things they liked.

Wisely, we listened. And will continue to listen. Because Plain Talk Banking isn't a one-way street.

Plain talk. Easy banking.
