

CURRENT PROFESSIONAL OPENINGS AT
KERR LIBRARY AT OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY

Oregon State University currently has four professional Librarian positions open. All require an MLS degree or equivalent from an ALA accredited library program. Additional degrees or experience required are listed with position. 12 month positions with faculty status. Rank dependent upon qualifications.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR FOR TECHNICAL,
AUTOMATION, AND ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Organizes, manages, and coordinates, planning and developing technical services activities, in-house automation activities and the Library's overall financial system including general budget. Serves on Administrative Council. Supervises heads of Heads of technical services departments, a system analyst, and an accounting clerk. Required: 8 years experience in technical services in an academic setting, experience in planning and implementation of automated library systems with increasing managerial/supervisory responsibility. Demonstrated leadership and organizational abilities. Preferred: a second subject master's or Ph.D. Salary: $35,000 minimum.

CATALOG LIBRARIAN

An Entry-level position performing original AACR2 and advanced copy-cataloging on OCLC, using classification and subject headings. Required: AACR2 and standard cataloging practice knowledge, library automated systems and a bibliographic utility familiarity. Preferred: a science/technology background; foreign language competence (Chinese or Japanese). Application deadline this position only May 8, 1987. Salary: $20,000 minimum.

ACQUISITIONS LIBRARIAN

Administers centralized acquisition of library materials primarily ordering, receiving, and accounting for all materials (monographs and serials/print and nonprint); organization, budget management, planning and implementation of policies and procedures within the Acquisitions Department. Key person in planning in automation of acquisitions and serials control systems. Required: 3-5 years of increasingly responsible professional experience which includes 2 years in a large academic or research library serials and/or acquisitions department in analyzing work processes, and planning for application of new technology. Organizational, managerial, and supervisory skills. Thorough knowledge of book trade. Automated acquisitions and serial control systems knowledge highly desirable. Salary: $30,000.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT LIBRARIAN

Oversees consistent implementation of the library's Collection Development program. Serve as a member of Administrative Council. Develops and monitors the materials budget and allocations, trains and evaluates subject librarians. Required: Minimum of 5 years of increasingly responsible experience in acquisitions or collection development in an academic or research library, materials budget management, and supervisory skills. Desired: 2nd advanced degree, experience as head of collection development, prior university service and proven ability in research and publication. Salary: $35,000. Apply to:

Oregon State University Library
c/o Library Personnel
Assistant
Corvallis, Oregon 97331

STATE POSITION FOR WHICH YOU ARE APPLYING. Submit letter of application, resume, and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of 3 references. Application deadline: May 29, 1987. Starting date: Sept. 1, 1987.

Oregon State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and complies with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Educational Seminar: Coping as a Working Parent

The working parent is frequently confronted with special concerns at work and at home. These and other timely topics will be discussed in a seminar on "Coping as a Working Parent" in Beaverton at the Greenwood Inn, Highway 217 and Allen Boulevard, on Friday, April 24, 1987, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The instructor, Dr. Jim Firth, is an associate professor in counseling in the School of Education at Oregon State University.

Topics to be covered include establishing and coordinating personal, professional, and family goals, what to do when family issues affect your work, reasonable employer expectations, leaving your child with someone else, and bridging the gap between work and family.

Enrollments are accepted in the order received until the limit is reached. Registration is completed by sending $75 to Endeavors for Excellence, Oregon State University, Continuing Education, Corvallis, OR 97331-1640. For further details call Endeavors for Excellence in Corvallis, (503) 754 2677.