

DEAN

College of Business Administration

Northeastern University, located in Boston, is one of the nation's largest private universities. It is the world leader in cooperative education programs, designed to give students a rich balance of academic study and work experience. The College of Business Administration grants the Master of Business Administration, the Master of Science in Accounting and the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degrees. MBA programs include an Executive MBA, a High Technology MBA, a cooperative full-time MBA, a traditional full-time MBA, and an evening part-time MBA. All programs are fully accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. Graduate and undergraduate programs operate on the cooperative education philosophy. In addition, there is a Center for Management Development, which is responsible for the non-degree programs of the College. The College presently has a faculty of 110 full-time members.

The Dean will be expected to lead the implementation of plans which assures the continued, successful development of the College. The Dean will also represent the College, internally and externally, in all matters necessary for the maintenance and furtherance of the College's programs and scholarship. The Dean is responsible for creating and enhancing relationships between the College and the business and scholarly communities and alumni. The Dean has full responsibility for the effective management of all aspects of the College's degree and non-degree programs, research, standards, policies, faculty, budgets, resource development and strategic planning.

We seek an established scholar-administrator who is dynamic. Candidates should have an earned doctorate in an appropriate field with a record of successful teaching or equivalent experience in areas similar to the College's degree programs and/or to its non-degree programs. Candidates should have a commitment to strengthen research and scholarship and a commitment to the cooperative education format as a key element in program design. Candidates are to have had major administrative experience in an academic or in a professional setting. They should have the ability to work effectively with the business community, University administrators, and faculty. Candidates should be able to satisfy college requirements for tenure and full professorial rank.

The salary is competitive. Interested persons should submit a letter of application, a current curriculum vitae and the names, addresses, and phone numbers of three references. The deadline for nominations is June 1, 1987 and for applications, June 30, 1987. Please send materials to: Dr. Richard B. Higgins, Chairperson, Dean's Search Committee, 304 Hayden Hall, Box A, College of Business Administration, Northeastern University, 360 Huntington Avenue, Boston, MA 02115.
