Migrant and seasonal agricultural workers have a right to receive the wages employers agreed to pay them. Under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), that amount is generally not less than $3.35 an hour (the federal minimum wage). Federal law does not require overtime pay for most agricultural workers. It is enforced by the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division.

Most farmworkers do not have to be paid time and one-half when they work over 40 hours in a week. Nevertheless, they must be paid at least the minimum wage ($3.35 an hour) for all hours worked, according to a fact sheet on Farmworkers and the Federal Wage and Hour Law, available from Labor Department's Office of Information and Public Affairs, Washington, D.C. 20210.
