

PEOPLE POWER

*It's something Nordstrom, the nation's leading fashion specialty store,
feels strongly about.*

People power comes from our employees; experienced men and women who genuinely like people; who find satisfaction in helping others. People with motivation, enthusiasm and a will to succeed.

Nordstrom is an Equal Opportunity employer; we offer career opportunities for all kinds of people, with all kinds of potential. Careers in sales, customer service, merchandise processing, clerical, restaurant and building maintenance. All excellent learning and growing experiences for people who want to work with us in continuing our outstanding reputation of quality, selection, value and service.

People power. It's the difference at Nordstrom.

Portland Native Does Well In Navy Dental Corps

Former Portlander Lt. James A. Smith, A U.S. Navy dental officer, is currently in town to pass the word about naval officer opportunities for minorities. The 1973 graduate of Jefferson High School has worked as a Navy dentist for the Marine Corps near Palm Springs, Calif. and on the island of Okinawa. The Marine Corps does not have its own medical corps; it relies on the Navy for dentists, doctors, nurses, and corpsman. (Official U.S. Navy photo by YNC (SW) Steve Dougherty).

"In Washington and Oregon, 20,000 kids drop out of high school
every year. I want them to have choices."

Mary Wideman-Williams is a CHOICES program volunteer. She's one of 417 Pacific Northwest Bell people who have taken the time to receive special training to help our 9th graders understand what it really means to drop out of school.

You see, most kids who drop out of school don't know what their choices really are. And once they do know, some of them decide that staying in school is a pretty smart choice after all.

Pacific Northwest Bell offers the CHOICES program free to any high school that requests it. If that's a choice you'd like your school to make, call us.
