

ROOM REMAINS IN PCC RETAIL CLERK TRAINING CLASS

Openings remain in the first of two retail clerk training classes scheduled this spring by Portland Community College.

The College is still taking applications from people who want to enroll in the May 15-26 session, said Mark Bershadsky, business administration instructor at Cascade Campus.

Course work will include segments on customer relations, work ethic and habits, communication with supervisors and co-workers, retail mathematics, selling of merchandise, inventory control and handling, getting a job and cash register training.

Sandy's Camera Shops has donated four cash registers for use in the program, Bershadsky said.

Cost will be $60 for tuition and materials. The class is being held at the Job Opportunity Bank, 2710 NE 14th Ave.

Students may choose morning or afternoon sessions.

A second class will meet June 12-23. Further information is available from Bershadsky at PCC Cascade, 244-6111, ext. 5221, or Cascade Community Education, ext. 5205.

WILSON REPEATS THIRD PLACE IN STAGE-BAND NATIONALS

Wilson High School's 26-member stage band again owns a third-place ranking in national competition for high-school musicians.

The band, led by instrumental-music instructor Gregory McKelvey and winner of 1988's bronze award, competed April 27-30 with 41 other regional and state winners in the 1989 National Finals for Jazz Musicians in Philadelphia, Pa.

First- and second-place winners this year were bands from St. Louis, Mo. and Norwood, Ma.

Wilson's Rand Barnett won a $1,500 award as the most outstanding trombonist in competition involving both high-school and college musicians.

Judges, who also conducted post-performance oral interviews with band members, heard the Wilson group play "Cherry Juice," "Momsville" and "Big Swing Bass."

Wilson won the right to compete nationally by earlier winning Oregon and Northwest regional contests.

COALITION OF BLACK MEN--PRESS CONFERENCE

The Coalition of Black Men invites you to attend a press conference on Friday, May 12, 1989, at 10:00 am at the King Neighborhood Facility, 4815 NE 7th Avenue. At this time, Harold Williams, spokesman and vice chairman of the coalition, will make a statement about the escalating violence against African-Americans and other minorities by skinheads. In view of the evidence that Portland is fast becoming a stronghold for this white supremacist group, this is of great concern to the African-American community.

The Coalition of Black Men was founded in June 1988 to address the social problems confronting African-American youth and their families. Its purpose is to enhance and improve the quality of life in the African-American community through advocacy, empowerment, social education, and economic programs.

CELEBRATE MOTHER'S DAY AT THE MARKET!

On Saturday, May 13, and Sunday, May 14, Portland Saturday Market, together with KPDX and KEX, will feature some very special Mother's Day treats.

On Saturday, bring the kids to the KPDX Children's Corner, where they can make their own hand-made cards for Mom from 10-4, and get their faces painted from 12-3. We supply all the materials, and they supply the imagination. Also, Bob Swanson from KEX will be broadcasting live from 11-2, and there will be free balloons for all.

On Sunday from 12-4 be amazed and amused by Angelo Galileo and David Lichtenstein, jugglers, and The Magical Mr. Thumb, clown, magician, and ventriloquist.

On both days, Mom and Dad can enter our contest drawing to win a basket of goodies that includes both weekend and dinner for two and a set of gift certificates. And of course, they'll find the unique, hand-crafted gifts that make Saturday Market so special.

Parking validation is available at City Center lots at NW 2nd and Davis with $15 purchase, and gift certificates are available if you just can't decide. Be part of the fun this Mother's Day weekend at Portland Saturday Market!
