BENSON STUDENT FROM OREGON CARRIES FLAG

Gov. Neil Goldschmidt selected Eric Jenkins, a sophomore at Benson High School in Portland, to represent Oregon at the 10th annual National Flag Week Ceremony June 10-15 in Baltimore Maryland.

One student from each state participated in the program sponsored by American Airlines and the National Flag Day Foundation. Jenkins carried the State of Oregon flag in three separate parades of the states.

Jenkins who will be student body vice president at Benson next year, was selected from students nominated by the Urban League, Portland School District, and Metropolitan Youth Commission. He is active in student government, community activities, sports, and church. (Allen Temple CME)

"Patriotism need not be an extraordinary act of loyalty," he said. "It can simply be a young student reciting the Pledge of Allegiance with sincerity and pride, using his or her right to vote to support America's best interests, or just being a proud American."

PCC Announces Friendship Workshop at Cascade Campus

A workshop titled "Friendships" will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, July 29, in Portable building 4 at the Cascade Campus of Portland Community College, 705 N. Killingsworth St.

The workshop will focus on how to make time in one's life to recognize and nurture friendship, said instructor Virginia Posselt. Cost is $8.50.

Further information is available from Community Education at Cascade Campus, 244-6111, ext. 5205.

PCC to offer Adult Education Classes at New N/NE Center

Portland Community College has joined several other groups in the operation of the new Northeast Employment and Training Center, 3034 N.E. Martin Luther King Blvd.

PCC Adult Basic Education and GED Preparation classes will start the week of July 10. The free classes will meet from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, offering basic skills training in reading, grammar, math and writing, as well as more advanced work for people preparing for GED examinations.

Veteran PCC adult education instructors Diane Fisker and Luann Spoelstra will teach the classes, which are open to anyone.

The training center is sponsored by the Private Industry Council, in partnership with PCC, the Northeast Jobs Committee, Inner Northeast Coalition of Neighborhoods and Portland's Neighborhood Revitalization.

PIC will provide job placement help, case management, support services and counseling to clients. Adult and Family Services and the state Employment Division will offer training and placement services.

Mt. Tabor Park To Host Jazz Concerts

The hot and cool sounds of jazz will be the feature attraction at the Mt. Tabor Park concert series sponsored by Portland General Electric Co. (PGE) and the Portland City Parks Bureau. The four weekly two-hour concerts will begin July 11 and run through Aug. 1 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

This is the second year that PGE and the city have joined in a partnership to bring the sounds of music to the volcanic stage at Mt. Tabor, Located off of SE 69th and Yamhill.

The four evening programs are free of charge and feature a variety of local musicians playing various jazz selections. The series kicks off July 11 with the big band sounds of the 17-piece Art Abrams' Swing Machine.

"Portland Parks and Recreation is pleased to have PGE as a partner in the revival of summer concerts in the volcano at Mt. Tabor Park. Private sponsorships enable Portland to continue its tradition of free music in the parks," says Mike Linberg, Commissioner of Parks.

Summer concerts were once a tradition at Mt. Tabor park until city budget cuts forced an end to the programs. This year's program is one of six summer concert series offered by the Portland Parks and Recreation Bureau.

"The concerts provide an opportunity for citizens of Portland to enjoy local musical talent at one of the city's most beautiful landmarks," says Janet Holzman, PGE Community Relations Representative. "We at PGE are happy to continue the musical concert series for the second year."

Families are encouraged to bring their baguettes, wine and cheese, or other picnic supplies to the park concerts. Blanket seating is permitted on the grass and seating is also available on park benches.

JOINT PROJECT BETWEEN C.A.S.E., THE PRIVATE INDUSTRY COUNCIL AND THE U.S. FOREST SERVICE

On June 30 at 10:00 AM Citizen's Action for Safe Environment, along with the Private Industry Council and the U.S. Forest Service held a press conference to announce their joint effort in the rehabilitation of the Bull Run Watershed.

On July 5, two work crews from the Private Industry Council consisting of 10 inner city youths each, will begin work on projects in the Bull Run Watershed and other parts of the Mt. Hood National Forest. These projects will range from reforestation and repair of water monitoring trails in the Bull Run Watershed to repair and maintenance of hiking trails throughout the western portion of the Mt. Hood national Forest.

Citizen's Action for a Safe Environment will coordinate these projects with the U.S. Forest Service and help teach the youths forest management practices, and the need to protect our watershed together with other parts of our eco-system.

Citizen's Action for a Safe Environment is a non-profit organization working to protect our state's watersheds along with educating the public on the importance of protecting our watershed and other parts of our eco-system.

BOGLE THANKS VOTERS

City Commissioner Dick Bogle has issued a "Thank you" to the voters who overwhelmingly approved his Public Safety Levy in the June 27 election.

"The best part of this victory is the fact that every man, woman and child in the City of Portland will benefit," Bogle said. "Public safety is everyone's top concern, and public safety is going to be greatly improved."

"To say I am pleased would be the understatement of the century," said Bogle, who not only introduced the levy, but single-handedly raised $35,000 to wage a billboard and radio campaign, and made close to 30 public and media appearances on behalf of the measure—all within the space of one month.

One of the public safety improvements will come in the form of an enhanced 911 system. With the current equipment, 911 operators spend precious time trying to determine the caller's address. With E-911 equipment, the address automatically flashes on a screen.

"This new system will save the lives of people who are ill, injured, too frightened to talk, or too young to know the address," Bogle said.

CONCERNED CITIZENS OF WOODLAWN ASSOCIATION

The CONCERNED CITIZENS OF WOODLAWN ASSOCIATION is a non-profit community based action group that was organized on August 3, 1988 by Andrew Watkins and other concerned citizens to launch a major effort to reclaim the Woodlawn community and our city.

The CONCERNED CITIZENS OF WOODLAWN should be recognized as the unsung heroes; We are a organization devoted to the revitalization of our community and our City. We have closed eight crack houses and are working on closing several more. We are operating a Food Program that feeds over 5,000 needy Families in the City. Our organization has helped shelter the Homeless; Donated $500.00 worth of toys for low-income children.

TICKETS GO ON SALE FOR SHRINERS HOSPITAL NORTH-SOUTH ALL-STAR GAME JULY 29TH

Tickets went on sale this week (July 3) for the 42nd Annual North-South Shriners Hospital All-Star Football Game, to be played Saturday night, July 29th, at Portland Civic Stadium.

Tickets for the game to benefit the Shriners Hospital may be purchased at the Stadium box office, Memorial Coliseum Box Office, or the Shrine Hospital Football Office, 938 SW Main Street, Portland.

General admission is $5, East grandstand reserved $7.50, West grandstand reserved $8.50, West side box seats and first four rows reserved $10. Information on mail orders may be had by calling 503-226-4192, according to Budd Burnie, General Chairman.

The North-South game pits All-Star teams of graduated seniors from the state's Triple-A high schools. North squad is made up of players from the greater Portland metro area, South from the remainder of the state.

All net proceeds from the game go to help support the Shriners Hospital on Portland's Marquam Hill. The Portland hospital is one of 22 Shriners facilities throughout North America which provide long term orthopedic and burn treatment to needy children without charge.

The game is presented by Al Kader Shrine Temple of Portland and Hilar Shrine Temple of Ashland.

SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAMS COMING

Registration has begun for the annual summer recreation Program for youth 9-18 years old at Mt. Hood Community College. Basketball, tennis, volleyball and fitness/recreation camps are scheduled during July and August.

Associate Dean of Health, P.E. and Athletics Bruce Turner said the department is busy preparing for the camps.

"These are the same programs we've been running for years and the response is always great," said Turner, "especially for the volleyball and tennis camps."

The volleyball camp will be divided into two sections. Children in grades 5-8 may attend July 10-13 from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. at a cost of $50. A camp for grades 9-12 also will be held July 10-13 from 1 to 5:30 p.m. at a cost of $75. Both sections will be conducted by MHCC women's volleyball coach Terry Neuberger and will stress the basics of the game, taught through drills, games and individual instruction.

A basketball camp for girls ages 10-17 will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., July 19-22. MHCC women's basketball coach Daryle Broadword also will use drills, games and individual instruction in his camp. Participants should bring their own lunch.

Two youth recreation camps are scheduled for August, the first for ages 9-14 on Aug. 21-31 from 9 a.m. to noon. A general fitness program with emphasis on fun games and varied sports, the camp bears a cost of $20 per child and $10 for each additional child from the same family. Participants should bring a swimsuit and towel each day.

The second youth recreation camp, for ages 5-8, will meet from 9 to 10:30 a.m. on Aug. 21-24. That program will emphasize fun activities and motor skill development. The cost is $10 for one child, $15 for two children in the same family and $25 for three children from the same family.

A tennis camp for ages 9-18 will be held Aug. 21-25 from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Broadword, also MHCC recreation coordinator, will conduct the camp, which bears a cost of $30 and provides each participant with a can of balls.

A boys' basketball camp, originally scheduled for July 3-7, has been canceled. For registration and other information, contact MHCC's Health, P.E. and Athletics Division at 667-7450.
