PCC to Offer 19 Fall Term Telecourses

Portland Community College will present 19 telecourses this fall to accommodate students who must do course work in their homes. The classes will be presented on KOPB-TV Channel 10, TCI Channel 32 in Portland, Rogers Cable Channel 32 in the PCC District and Columbia Cable Channel 29. Some of the offerings will be aired on TCI Channel 38 in Newberg.

Among the telecourses are two new ones: Mathematics Appreciation (PCM 35) and Learn to Read (ABE 0.745A1). The mathematics class is designed to increase a student's curiosity and interest in math, to make mathematics less threatening and improve math communication skills. Tuition for the three-credit class is $70.00. There are no prerequisites.

Learn to Read is a free class which carries no college credit. It is designed for the adult who reads very little, or not at all. Individualized instruction, telephone tutoring and one-to-one tutoring will be available to students who require extra help.

Other offerings for fall are Introduction to Computers: Concepts; Applied Child Development; Introduction to Business; Management Fundamentals; Personal Finance; Physical Science: Astronomy; Personal Health; Child Development; General Psychology; Introduction to Contemporary Mathematics; and General Education Development: Preparation.

Telecourses that will be aired on cable channels, but not on KOPB-TV Channel 10, include General Anthropology, Cultural; Introduction to Medical Terminology; Introduction to Medical Terminology II; Marriage; Algebra I; and Starting Your Business.

Fall term telecourse registration will end September 30. Further information is available from the PCC Telecourse office, 244-6111, ext. 4481, and on Pages 156-158 of the PCC Fall Schedule. The schedule is available at no cost at all PCC locations, and public libraries and Safeway Stores within the college district.
