The Fair features a wide variety of entertaining and educational activities for both kids and their parents. Admission is $3.00 for adults and free their children under 18.

Statewide Transit Grants Awarded

Eleven Oregon non-profit agencies have been awarded $501,108 in Elderly and Disabled Transportation grants through the state Public Transit Division.

Agencies receiving grants are located statewide, representing rural and urban communities in Eastern and Southern Oregon and the Willamette Valley, said Steve Fosdick, special transportation coordinator for the division.

Oregon's share of the federal Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA) grants will help purchase new equipment used to transport elderly and disabled people to medical and dental care, employment, education, nutritional programs, shopping and recreational opportunities.

Most of the 1989 grants will be used to replace equipment originally purchased with similar funds distributed by the state Public Transit Division in earlier years of the program.

Competition remains strong for the limited funds available through this program, according to Fosdick. A total of 27 applications requesting more than $1.1 million in funds were reviewed by an Oregon Interagency Review Committee, he said.

"Successful applicants showed their ability to coordinate transportation services among various providers and client types. Several examples of shared vehicles, coordinated service contracts and ride-pooling were offered by the grant-winning agencies," Fosdick added.

Grant funds provide 80 percent of the equipment purchase price. Local funds—including state-sponsored Elderly and Disabled Special Transportation Funds, grants from counties and cities, local contributions, service contracts and fund-raisers—must provide the 20 percent balance.

Goldschmidt Signs New Laws

Gov. Neil Goldschmidt signing new laws requiring law enforcement agencies to report statistics on crimes motivated by prejudice, proclaiming Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday a legal school holiday, and adding sexual orientation to categories protected by the intimidation laws.

Joining the governor are, left to right, Joseph D. Wade, chairman, Commission on Black Affairs; Stevie Remington, executive director, Oregon Branch, American Civil Liberties Union; State Senator Shirley Gold, of Portland; and State Senator Bill Bradbury, of Bandon.

Said Governor Goldschmidt, these bills, "are a reminder of how far we have come—and of how far we have left to go—until the day when 'all God's children will join hands and walk together as brothers and sisters.'"

South Africa Tops Discussion on Sunday Northwest

The assistant director of the South African Foundation appeared on Sunday Northwest; in addition, the departing director of the Multnomah County Library bids farewell to Portland.

Representing the South African Foundation, Assistant Director Sylvia Gon appeared with Host Rick Meyers to discuss the goals and aims of the 30 year old group. The South African Foundation is an independent organization of influential businessmen which is working to counter efforts to isolate South Africa from the rest of the world.

The South African Foundation is financed independent of government funding and believes that only a free enterprise system within a mixed economy can ensure economic growth for South Africa.

After the South African segment, Rick Meyers spoke with Sarah A. Long, the departing director of the Multnomah County Library. The former director has helped shape constructive change in Portland as well as make enormous contributions to the intellectual center of the city.

Do you agree that it's Time for Black people to be proud of their heritage? Do you agree that it's Time for the whole world to recognize Black History? Do you agree that it's about Time a company came out with a product that reminds you of the Motherland in addition to the Time of day? If you answered 'yes; to one or all of the above questions, then it's Time.

The African Secret

The colors depicted on the Motherland have specific meaning: RED- the color of the blood which was shed of our redemption and liberation.

BLACK- the color of the noble and distinguished race to which we belong.

GREEN- the color of the lush vegetation of the Motherland. (The GOLD outline represents the color of precious mineral mined from her core.)

Wear this conceptual design proudly because it indicates that you are in tune to the exclusive 'Secrets of Africa'. The African Pyramid, a structure that to this day still goggles the minds of leading world scientists, architects, engineers, etc...How could this advanced building technology take place at such an early date? 'The African Secret' remains...

We wish you the best that life has to offer.

The African Secret has inspired a unique line of ball caps, T-Shirts, medallions and watches. Purchase these unique items at;
