Anti-Drug Act Funds Awarded The Tri-County Region

Governor Neil Goldschmidt yesterday announced the awarding of $172,000 in drug enforcement funds to the Regional Organized Crime Narcotics Task Force ("ROCN") for 1989-90.

The funds are part of the $1.5 million that the State of Oregon received under the federal 1988 Anti-Drug Abuse Act. Those funds are being distributed consistent with the state's 1989 Law Enforcement Drug and Violent Crime Strategy that was developed after a series of statewide community hearings this past summer.

Michael D. Schunk, Multnomah County District Attorney and Chairman of the ROCN Control Board, welcomed the Governor's news. "These funds will enable the Task Force to effectively target its day-to-day investigations and prosecutions. Illegal drug activity ignores the political boundaries of any area, so it is essential that law enforcement authorities coordinate their work. Money is always a great incentive to bringing people together, and these state funds are being used precisely as they should be -- leveraging scarce dollars to produce large results."

During the last year, the Anti-Drug Act funds previously awarded to ROCN resulted in:

- * Execution of 33 search warrants and 30 arrests.
- * 13 federal prosecutions.
- * 13 state prosecutions.
- * Seizures of drugs valued at $2,077,510.
- * Seizures of currency amounting to $246,080.
- * Seizures of 19 vehicles.
- * Seizures of 64 weapons.

The ROCN Task Force is one of seven Regional Anti-Drug Enforcement task forces in the state. They were created to pool together scarce law enforcement resources in the multicounty area and target specific illegal drug activity for investigation, apprehension and prosecution. The work of the Task Force is coordinated by a ROCN Control Board which is made up of the following individuals:

Mr. Charles Turner, United States Attorney; Chief Richard Walker, Portland Police Bureau; Mr. Larry McKinney, Resident Agent in Charge, DEA; Mr. Scott Upham, Washington County District Attorney; Mr. Jim O'Leary, Clackamas County District Attorney; Chief Art Knori, Gresham Police Bureau; Major L.R. Howland, Oregon State Police; Sheriff Robert Skipper, Multnomah County; Sheriff Bill Probstfield, Washington County; Sheriff Bill Brooks, Clackamas County.

The ROCN Task Force is composed of law enforcement officers from these local, state and federal agencies. In addition, the Milwaukie and Lake Oswego Police Departments currently have officers assigned to ROCN operations as does the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Block-By-Block Weatherization Project in Kenton Neighborhood

75 Homes to be weatherized in Kenton Neighborhood. The Block-By-Block Weatherization Project will be implemented in 1989/90 in Kenton Neighborhood. This project offers FREE Weatherization to residents of this neighborhood.

To qualify you must live in Kenton Neighborhood, attend the Energy Fair to be held November 18, 1989, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Kenton Fire House and meet the income guidelines. PDC's OREGON CONVENTION CENTER RECEIVES AWARD

The Portland Development Commission (PDC) has received a Special Achievement Award from the International Downtown Association (IDA) for the Oregon Convention Center Area Development Strategy.

IDA presented the award to PDC in the category of planning and development, describing the Oregon Convention Center Area Development Strategy as "an excellent example of development which carries out the intention of a city comprehensive plan." The Strategy was termed a logical outgrowth of a 1986 regional decision to build the Oregon Convention Center and the 1988 adoption of the Central City Plan. PDC originally prepared a draft Strategy under contract to the Metropolitan Service District. Formal adoption of the Development Strategy Policies and Procedures occurred in December 1988.

Further, IDA states that the Strategy establishes "clear priorities, a funding plan and a process to develop a visitor and pedestrian focus for the Oregon Convention Center area, extend the downtown core across the Willamette River and establish a long-term development strategy for public/private investment in an area physically removed from the central business district."

Ruth Scott, Executive Director of the Association for Portland Progress, accepted the award on behalf of PDC at IDA's conference in Memphis on September 25, 1989.

IDA, based in Washington, D.C., is an international association of downtown development and management professionals dedicated to urban revitalization at the local level. The annual Downtown Achievement Awards are intended

Volunteers Needed

The Portland Police Bureau's Sexual Assault Prevention Program will be accepting applications from November 1 - December 15 from women interested in teaching Womenstrength Self-Defense and in providing public education on sexual assault prevention strategies. All positions are non-paid. The annual training for new volunteers will occur in February and March, 1990.

Applicants must be committed to the belief that women must have access to information about sexual violence and to skills that can help them to recognize and defend against it. The program celebrates diversity and encourages applications from women who represent a cross-section of our community. This work requires that women be sensitive to the issue of sexual violence, articulate, willing to learn, comfortable with teamwork, and have the time available to make a commitment to this program. Previous work in the field and experience teaching self-defense are not required.

Duties of a volunteer staff member are to 1) complete the 40 hour training for public education work, plus an additional 25 hour training for self-defense work, 2) give public presentations on sexual assault prevention strategies or teach women's self-defense classes, or both. Average monthly commitment by volunteers is 10-12 hours. Information and applications can be obtained by calling 796-3139 during office hours.

Adams High School Class of 1976-79 Reunion!

A reunion for all graduates of Adams High School (Portland) from the years 1976-1979 is being planned for Saturday, November 4, 1989 at Shenanigans on the Willamette in Portland. An evening of dinner, dancing and reminiscing is planned. All former faculty and classmates from other years welcome. United Way Tops $4 Million

United Way of the Columbia-Willamette announced Wednesday that it has raised $4,325,783, or 21 percent of its $20.5 million goal for the 1989 fundraising drive. The North Region has raised $380,014 of its $1.3 million goal.

Campaign Chairman Matthew Prophet, superintendent of Portland Public Schools, reported the total during the second of three luncheons scheduled this fall to update United Way volunteers on the success of Campaign '89.

Metropolitan Human Relations Commission Introduces New Executive

On Tuesday, October 24th, the Metropolitan Human Relations Commission will introduce the new Executive Director, Jeannette Pai, at an Open House from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. in Room 520. The public is invited.

Pai, who began her new position at MHRC on October 2nd, will be formally introduced by commissioners to representatives of human relations and civil rights organizations, elected officials and citizens of Portland and Multnomah County.

The former executive director of the Salem Human Relations Commission and Social Service Commission, Pai will be responsible for management of MHRC.

"I see the issues facing the Commission as particularly compelling," said Pai, "given the increase in the incidents of violence and harassment on our community. In my opinion, it is time for advocacy, for coalition building, for education and outreach, and for breaking the silence that may hide serious problems within our diverse communities."

Pai is a graduate of the University of Missouri and holds a masters degree from Colorado State University.

The Metropolitan Human Relations Commission conducts research and advocacy of human and civil rights issues, and acts as conciliator in intergroup conflicts. MHRC also acts as a monitoring and referral resource for discrimination complaints.
