

A HELPING HAND - Jerry Moore, (center) executive director of the Detroit-based Chrysler Motors Black Dealers Association (CMBDA), presents a check for $5,000 to the Reverend Jesse L. Jackson, founder of Operation PUSH, and McNair Grant (left), executive director of the Operation PUSH International Trade Bureau.

The donation will support the work of the Trade Bureau, which assists African-American business development through fair-share agreements and procurement contracts. The Chrysler Motors Black Dealers Association is a national trade association of African-American dealers of Chrysler, Plymouth, and Dodge vehicles.

HEUBLEIN SUPPORTS URBAN LEAGUE

John E. Jacob (right), President, National Urban League celebrates with Lynn Borges, Chairman of the Hartford Urban League and Director of Human Resources, Heublein (center), and Jack Shea, Director External Affairs, Heublein the 80th anniversary of the National Urban League Conference recently held in New York City.

Heublein was one of the principle co-sponsors of the annual Urban League dinner that drew 3000 people. The key note speaker was the honorable David N. Dinkins, Mayor of the City of New York.

National Urban League was founded in 1910 to promote interracial cooperation at a time when racism was rampant in America. Since then the League has been providing programs of direct service to millions of people each year. Its name has always been synonymous with employment, training, and job placement, as well as advocacy, research, and special projects which have a positive impact on the lives of people of all races.
