How to make your largest clients feel like your only client.

You helped their business grow. Word got out that you are one of the best, you got busier, and you thought everyone was happy. Until that first client casually mentioned that it's been hard to reach you lately. Luckily, your competitor's phone was busy, too.

So, to prove that their business is important, give your clients a line of their own—an exclusive phone number on which to reach you. With a US WEST Preferred Client Line, your best clients feel like your only client. And that gives you a competitive edge. For still more ideas on how to give every client special treatment, call a small business specialist at 242-3384.
