JACQUI SUTTON
 TO BE FEATURED
 WITH OREGON
 DANCE CONSORT

On October 6 & 7 at the Intermediate Theatre of the Portland Center for the Performing Arts, African American singer/actress Jacqui Sutton will reprise her critically acclaimed rendition of Amazing Grace in Esperanto during an evening of dance presented by Oregon Dance Consort. called Roots, Ritual and Renewal, the concerts will feature seven dances by choreographer Judith Catterall whose work has been called "a celebration of being." "Jacqui's rich voice sets the scene for a piece called Descendants: A Ritual of Remembrance which depicts an earth-oriented society gathered to celebrate their survival and growth following a period of chaos.
 Before moving to Portland three years ago, Jacqui sang with a jazz ensemble in San Francisco. She is currently working with the theater company, Tygres Heart, in a production of Shakespeare's As You Like It to open at the Winningstad Theatre on November 2. She also keeps busy singing with David York's Concord Choir.

 METRO CRISIS INTERVENTION SERVICE

Metro Crisis Intervention Service is recruiting volunteers to staff its 24-hour telephone intervention and information referral phone service. The agency needs volunteers for daytime, evening and weekend shifts. Classes for fall training begin Saturday, Oct. 6; sessions are held evenings and weekends for the convenience of people with daytime commitments.
 No experience is necessary, though applicants must be at least 18 years old. Metro provides 57 hours of training for applicants accepted into the program. Volunteers typically work one four-hour shift per week. Call the Metro Crisis Intervention Service volunteer coordinator at 226-3099 to apply. Metro Crisis is a United Way member agency.

TASK FORCE ON PREGNANCY &
 SUBSTANCE ABUSE
 MET IN NORTH-NORTH-EAST PORTLAND

State Representative Margaret Carter (D-18) announced that a special Governor's Task Force on Pregnancy & Substance Abuse met at the Martin Luther King Facility, 4815 N.E. 7th Avenue.
 The Task Force was established in March 1990, after findings by the Oregon Legislature, and State Health Division that an estimated 11% of all newborns may be affected by drug or alcohol abuse before birth. "It is estimated that an affected infant may require up to $8000 in medical care costs in the first year alone," Carter said. "In Los Angeles, it is reported that a drug affected child may impact the school system up to a cost of $15,000 a year per child. However, the greatest cost is in the permanent loss to society from learning disabilities, articulation problems, hyperactivity, and severe problems with socialization."
