"The dream is one of equality of opportunity, of privilege and property widely distributed; a dream of land where man will not take necessities from the many to give luxuries to the few; a dream of a land where men do not agree that the color of a man's skin determines the content of his character; a dream of a place where all our gifts and resources are held not for ourselves alone but as instruments of service for the rest of humanity; the dream of a country where every man will respect the dignity and worth of all human personality, and men will dare to live together as brothers..."

MLKJ Day Activities Planned

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s stirring "I Have a Dream" speech, and a presentation by a local black studies instructor will be highlights of Clackamas Community College's celebration of Martin Luther King Jr. Day on Monday, Jan. 21. While King's birthday is Jan. 15th, the official holiday in the U.S. is Jan. 21. A number of other activities have been scheduled on campus to mark the life and times of the noted civil rights leader and Nobel Peace Prize winner.

The "I Have a Dream" speech video will play at 11:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. in the Fireside Lounge of the Community Center. At 8 a.m. and 2 p.m., the film "Glory" will be shown. The movie depicts the struggles of an all-black regiment during the civil war. At noon, guest speaker Dr. Darrell Milner, chairman of the Black Studies Department at Portland State University, will discuss "The Dream or the Nightmare: Black America in the 1990s." A reception will follow Dr. Milner's presentation. All events take place in the Fireside Lounge.

In addition to taking part in the events scheduled for Jan. 21, CCC students have been viewing "Eyes on the Prize," a television history of the civil rights movement of the 1960s.

According to Andreas Luehring, CCC student and Martin Luther King, Jr. Celebration Committee chairman, every generation needs to recommit to King's legacy—and make it a reality.

"King's stand for civil rights and human dignity is a message that has meaning for the whole world," said Luehring, 28, a native of West Germany. "Ignorance knows no boundaries," he added. "Achieving equality is a learning process—and not just one generation's responsibility," said Luehring.

CREED OF THE BLACK PRESS

The Black Press believes that America can best lead the world away from social and national antagonisms when it accords to every person, regardless of race, color, or creed, full human and legal rights. Hatred no person, fearing no person, the Black Press strives to help every person in the firm belief that all are hurt as long as anyone is held back.
