

Buy a HUD home in a hurry with Express Bid!

Our tremendously successful Express Bid program makes the process of bidding for and buying a HUD home faster and easier than ever. That's because now when you bid full price* or better on any HUD home, that bid will be opened at our daily (Tues.-Fri.) 2:00 p.m. bid opening.

Express Bids end the usual 10-day wait, speeding up decisions on every full price or better bid submitted. (If more than one Express Bid arrives for the same property at the same bid opening, the highest net bid is considered for acceptance.)

So if you're looking for a real home-buying bargain, and you're in a real hurry, then ask your real estate agent to Express your bid on a HUD home. It's another great reason to go with The Home Team's advantage!

For a listing of HUD homes available now, check the real estate classified section of the Sunday Oregonian.

*A minimum full price bid is list price less a maximum 6% broker commission and a maximum 3% closing cost paid by HUD if requested.

Food From A Cooperative Grocery

BY TONY WASHINGTON

Food Front is located in Northwest Portland. They have one of the largest variety of organic products in the city. They are a cooperative grocery with an active membership in over 550 members. Gregory Swetland is the Marketing Director and sights the demands for organic grown product increases all the time. Since this is a co-op foodfront, it is always seeking new members. Membership fee is $150.00 by installment, and arrangements can be made. This entitles you to a 5% discount on each purchase.

The business continues to grow. Swetland attributes this demand for organic grown products to growing concern in a healthier diet, less the chemicals and preservatives.

Most products come from California depending on the season but Oregon's surrounding communities contributes a good portion of the products also. Seasonal products are always in demand. There is a real possibility the store will expand to the Northeast.

Food Front is a full service grocery with a deli and a full line of Rachel Perry cosmetics. Visit the store at: 2375 NW Thurman. Open to everyone.

Metro Task Force Recommends Against Purchase Of Sears Building

The Relocation Task Force of the Metropolitan Service District has determined that the proposed purchase and renovation of the Sears building at 524 NE Grand Ave., Portland, is not feasible for Metro at this time.

Metro had been exploring the possibility of purchasing the building for use as a permanent headquarters, but notified the building's owner, Pacific Development, Inc., of its intention to not proceed with the sale on March 25. In response, PDI has indicated an intention to present a more affordable plan to Metro before April 30, 1991.

The Metro task force determined that the purchase and renovation of the 59-year-old structure would cost $25.8 million, a figure which exceeds the agency's original estimates. The Metro Council had agreed last October to begin a period of intense examination of costs and construction/leasing alternatives, based on a purchase price of $5.15 million.

Metro had planned to initially use 55,000 square feet of the four-story 183,000-square-foot building for office space, to convert one floor to parking and to lease the remainder. Metro currently leases 45,000 square feet at 2000 SW First Ave. in Portland.

The Relocation Task Force will continue to explore other options for a new headquarters site for Metro.

OSU Offering Special Course On Minority Issues Spring Term

Oregon State University (OSU) is offering a special course on minority issues spring term that will be taught by two members of OSU's Board of Visitors for Minority Affairs. The course, "Minority Groups and Issues," is designed to provide students with an overview of concepts, myths and realities of minority group interaction with American Society, say its instructors.

Teaching the course will be Phyllis Lee, director of planning and development for the northwest region of Kaiser Permanente, and Kathleen D. Saadat, Oregon's director of affirmative action under Gov. Neil Goldschmidt. Both are on OSU's board of visitors, which advises President John Byrne on minority affairs.

The three-credit course, listed as Sociology 437, is open to OSU students and to members of the community through OSU's Office of Continuing Higher Education. The five-week class will run from April 5 to May 6, meeting Fridays from 7-9 p.m., and Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

It is co-sponsored by OSU's College of Liberal Arts, the Department of Sociology and the Office of Academic Affairs.

"The course is designed to communicate that minority groups are heterogeneous - they're not the same - and that each one has its own characteristics and faces life in a unique way," said Jon Hendricks, professor and chair of OSU's Department of Sociology.

"This is not a course designed just for minority persons," Hendricks emphasized. "We want to demonstrate to all students, and community persons taking the class that the lives of us all are affected by the way the lives of minority persons are affected."

Non-OSU students interested in taking the course should contact Oregon State's Office of Continuing Higher Education, 737-2676.

Tucker to Serve as Moderator for Journalist Conference

Ullysses Tucker, Jr.

Ullysses Tucker, Jr., a freelance National Basketball Association writer for the Portland Observer Newspaper and Public Affairs/Special Projects Producer for KATU-TV (ABC), will serve as moderator during the upcoming Reginal Association of Black Journalist Conference, hosted by local chapter.

Tucker, also a Human Communications instructor at Portland Community College, will lead a panel addressing the question, "Is there life after Journalism?" Tucker will be joined on the panel by Portland city Commissioner Dick Bogle, KOIN TV 6 (CBS) Cinematographer Morris Banks, and LaNita Duke, producer/host of Grassroots News. Other panels will discuss "Moving Up, Getting the Tools You Need", "Getting Your Foot in the Door (Small vs Large Markets)", "Difficult Dialogues, Dealing with Racism", and much more. Jonathan Rodgers, President/CBS owned stations, Stephani Stokes-Oliver, Editor/Essence Magazine, and Tony Brown, host/producer of Tony Brown's Journal will also be featured guest speakers. The conference will be held at the Portland Convention Center Saturday April 6, and Sunday April 7. For more Details, call 295-3403

COMING SOON
HOMES WANTED
APRIL 17 & 24

KIENOW'S

ROUND STEAKS
Boneless Full Cut
$1.98
POUND

BEEF RUMP ROASTS
Boneless
$2.29
POUND

PORK TENDERLOINS
Pre-frosted
$3.89
POUND

THE FRIENDLIEST STORES IN TOWN SINCE 1908
SPECIAL EFFECTIVE APRIL 2 through 7, 1991
MEMBER OF UNITED GROCERS

Cover Your Home With Insulated Vinyl Siding

Buy Direct & Save Money
100% Financing
NO MONEY DOWN

Call Carefree Vinyl Homes
283-0348

For Free Estimate & Consultation
(No Obligation to Buy Anything)

Open to All 9am to 9pm Daily
NW Thurman at 23rd Place 222-5658
Tri-Met Bus Routes 15 and 17

MICHELLE'S PASTA

Fettucine Varieties

Pasta lovers' delight - ready in 2 minutes! Hand rolled, organic durum flour combined with all natural vegetables, herbs, and spices.

8 oz Sugg. Retail $1.89

SALE $1.19

AFTER THE FALL

100% Fruit Juice

"Fruit Juice so good, it's like biting into the fruit itself."
Only the finest ingredients - Cape Cod Cranberry, Cranberry Meets Raspberry, Key West Lime.

32 oz Sugg. Retail $2.29

SALE $1.49

HEALTH VALLEY

Fat-Free Jumbo Fruit Cookies

Moist, tender cookies - low in calories, fat and sodium; high in fiber and nutrition.

9 oz Sugg. Retail $2.39

SALE $1.59

Michelle's Natural

2 MINUTE PASTA

PÂTES DEUX MINUTES

