10th Annual Mt. Hood
Festival Of Jazz

Singer Al Jarreau, Trumpeter Clark Terry and Blues Giant Robert Cray are the first acts signed for the 1991 Mt. Hood Festival of Jazz, according to Festival of Jazz Foundation President Terry McCall.

The three represent the opening salvo of the 10th annual Festival, set Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 2-3-4, outdoors at Mt. Hood Community College in Gresham. Additional acts will be announced as they are signed, McCall said.

Cray is no stranger to Pacific Northwest audiences, his international reputation taking root from numerous performances between Portland and Seattle that finally resulted in a major recording contract in the mid '80s.

Jarreau has more than a dozen hit recordings to his credit in a vocal career that began professionally in the late '60s, but which really started when he was 4 years old listening to jazz records his brothers brought home. He learned to harmonize and improvise early.

Clark Terry is a veteran jazz trumpet and fluegelhorn player whose credits include years with the Count Basie and Duke Ellington bands before going on tour with artists such as Ella Fitzgerald, Oscar Peterson, J.J. Johnson and others during his long career in jazz.

Rose Festival
Kicked Off "A Celebration Of Color"

It's time to officially kick off the 1991 Rose Festival season.

The 1991 Kickoff Luncheon took place noon on Wednesday, May 8th at the Oregon Convention Center.

The new Oregon Convention Center will be transformed into "A Celebration of Color" and will resemble a mini-Rose Festival. Race cars, not air balloons and aircraft will be assembled outside. Musical entertainment will be provided by members of the rose Festival's own Miller Genuine Draft One More Time Around Again Marching Band, the largest permanent marching band in the world.

Highlights of the luncheon included the announcement of the Grand Marshal of the Delta Air Lines Grand Floral Parade and the introduction of the 1991 Junior and Senior Rose Festival Courts.

Craig Walker, morning host on K103 FM and co-host on KGW-TV's "Good Evening," served as Master of Ceremonies.

Erin Neill, reigning queen of Rosaria, welcomed the new court and took some time to reflect on the 1990 Festival and her reign.

For the first time proceeds from the event will be used to purchase play equipment for an inner-city park. City Commissioner Mike Lindberg was presented with a check for $6,000 to be used at Harney Park in Southeast Portland in the Brentwood Darlington neighborhood.

This year's Rose Festival will take place May 31 through June 23, featuring some 70 events.

Kissing is an art. It should be constantly refined and never neglected.
