OPB To Produce All Star Jazz Event

Oregon Public Broadcasting announces the production of an all-star jazz concert and jam session scheduled for 7:00 p.m., June 4 and 5, 1991, in OPB's Portland Broadcast headquarters. The musical extravaganza is entitled, PDX: THE JAZZ SUMMIT, and features 25 of the regions most outstanding jazz artists. Headliners include Roy Vinegar, Andrew Hill, Dick Berk, Andrei Kitaev, John Stowell, Mariane Dayfield, Gary Hobbs, Rob Thomas, Bradley Caliman and Ron Steen. The edited broadcast will be simulcast later this year on the television and radio stations of OPB in FM stereo and will be seen and heard throughout OPB's coverage area which includes all of Oregon and Southern Washington. A limited number of tickets will be available for a studio audience each night of the taping.

Portland Youth Philharmonic Auditions

Auditions for the Portland Youth Philharmonic and the Preparatory Orchestra are scheduled for Saturday, June 1 at Glencoe Elementary School, SE 51st & Belmont in Portland. Conductor Jacob Avshalomov will hear the musicians trying out for both groups. Of particular interest are those students playing the string bass, bassoon, trombone, trumpet and percussion.

Applicants wishing to make an appointment to audition should call the Portland Youth Philharmonic Office at 223-5939, between 10 AM and 5 PM weekdays. Those trying out should be prepared to play a short piece or movement from a sonata or concerto, and some scales and arpeggios. They will also be asked to do some sight reading. Minimum age for string players is 10; for winds, brass and percussion, 13.

Both orchestras, the Portland Youth Philharmonic and the Preparatory Orchestra are established off-campus learning experiences for which players are eligible to receive academic credit at the schools they attend.

Rehearsals begin in the fall in preparation for the 68th concert season which begins November 16. There are four concerts in the season.

PSA-Letter Writing Rally Planned

It's a big chance to have your say! The proposed Measure 5 budget cuts of vocational services for people with developmental disabilities is going to have a devastating effect on individuals, their families and the community.

On May 13 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Goodwill Industries (855 Seneca), the Association of Retarded Citizens is sponsoring an opportunity to speak up and be heard. The rally will give people a chance to become updated on the proposed cuts and then write letters to legislators about their concerns and fears.

The rally is open to all interested Lane County residents and coincides with a statewide rally being held in Salem earlier in the day. For those who may find travel to Salem difficult, the ARC rally at Goodwill provides a local opportunity to become involved. Letters written during the rally will be hand delivered to State Ways and Means Committee members the next day. For more information, call Dan Close at 346-2575.

President George Bush Designates Johnny Gill As A "Contributing Leader"

President George Bush shakes hands with Johnny Gill

President George Bush recently met with Motown's Johnny Gill and designated him a Contributing Leader of The Points of Light program. On behalf of the White House Office of National Service, Gill is helping the President acknowledge and thank "Daily Points of Light" in various cities along his tour.

A "Point of Light" is an individual, business, union, school, place of worship club, group or organization taking direct and consequential action to solve drug abuse, illiteracy, inadequate education, homelessness, hunger, AIDS and other serious social problems in their own community. The President recognizes a "Daily Point of Light" six days a week.

Johnny Gill joins other celebrity Contributing Leaders such as Whitney Houston and Mike Love of the Bach Boys who are actively involved in the Points of Light program.

The Department Of The Army previously awarded Gill for his public support of Operation Desert Storm, co-hosting a Soldiers Radio and Television program of music and dedication and messages for troops deployed in Operation Desert Storm.

Johnny Gill has been tearing up the stage with his exciting performances and trademark voice on his sold-out five month tour.
