15,000 Black Jews Return Home; Wings Over Ethiopia, Part II

Who said that the first Ethiopian (African) sojourn was FROM ISRAEL TO EGYPT? (That is, the alleged 'captivity'; historians say that the Pharaohs often took in starving tribes experiencing famine). And who is it that would try to make the case that the Biblical Exodus was THE FIRST MIGRATION OF CIVILIZED AFRICANS TO THE MIDDLE EAST; albeit Jewish? Does a tale unfold?

Those who have read the legitimate history of the areas, and who have read my documented accounts here the past several years, know full well that thousands of years before there was a politically and culturally coherent entity of Israel/Judea/Palestine, Ethiopian and Egyptian dynasties held hegemony over the area, ruling all the way to the Tigris/Euphrates Valleys in the lands astride the "Ethiopian Sea" (now called the "Persian Gulf"). Petrie, Breasted, Montet, Gardner, Mazni, Murray, Diop, Van Sertimo, Isaac Newton, Tompkins, Chancellor Williams, DuBois, G.M. James, et al, all document the early transmission to African Culture, Religion and Technology in a seminal generative process to a so-called "Middle East". And don't forget Gerald Massey, Godfrey Higgins.

Returning to the "Black Madonnas", and examining the original (African) concept of Resurrection and a Holy Trinity; the African Gods Osiris, Isis and the child Horus. This "Egyptian Mystery System", evolved in a 6000 year old (or more) past when Ethiopia and Kush across the Red Sea reigned supreme as they forged civilization and has its icons carved into the tomb of King TutanKhamen who was revered as the reincarnation of Osiris. Tourists to the site will also see the 3400 year-old inscription, "MAN KNOW THY SELF". And this system provided an awesome and powerful theme of birth, death and resurrection-and the liberation of man's soul from body and the wheel of reincarnation. It became the universal and seminal force in the development of all the world's religions (G.M. James & King, Nile Valley Civilizations).

"The ancient historian, Plutarch, tells us that Osiris was born on the 361st day of the year, which corresponds to the 26th of December, when we take into account the reform of the calendar. Pope Julius I fixed December 25 as the birthday of Christ, though no one knows the date of his birth. What could have inspired Pope Julius I to choose that date--unless it was the Egyptian tradition perpetuated by the Roman calendar" (Diop, The African Origin of civilization). Diop goes on to point out that the African astronomers and priests structured their calendar and pantheon of Gods around their agricultural cycle. The birthday of Osiris, the God of resurrection, coincided with their spring and regeneration of plant life, therefore his statues were always painted green. Have you noticed that an American corporation has incorporated this theme into the labels for its 'food' products, THE JOLLY GREEN GIANT? More next week.

FGPA National Women Supervisor Sets Goals For Women's Convention

Missionary Rosemary Daniels of Portland has been the FGPA National Women Supervisor for the past two years. During the week of June 16-23 the Full Gospel Penecostal Association will host its 23rd convention at the OB Williams Center.

The Women's theme this year is "Now is the Time to serve the Lord", Isaiah 55:6.

Missionary Daniels expects women from each FGPA Church and around the country to speak on the theme, as well as Evangelist Agatha Hill of Los Angeles, California, and Minister Cornelia Walton of Dallas, Texas.

Evangelist Mattie Wells works closely with Missionary Daniels. They have planned on an inspiring women's day program.

Missionary Daniels will share her newest book, "Helpful Hints for Today's Women. She has dedicated the book to the FGPA National 1st lady, Evangelist Mother Wells and the national mother, Mother Frankie Birden. The public is invited to attend.

Civil Rights Bill Backed

Washington (UMNS)—A civil rights bill passed June 5 by the U.S. House of Representatives had the backing of the United Methodist Church's top social action agency and one of the denomination's best-known civil rights leaders.

Although supporting the action intended to overturn six 1989 Supreme Court decisions, the Board of Church and Society had opposed a $150,000 limit on punitive damages in cases involving nonracial job discrimination. The Rev. Thom White Wolf Fassett, Church and Society general secretary, said that the ability to claim damages without a cap would be helpful in "providing remedy to discrimination against women, persons with handicapping conditions and religious minorities."

The Bush administration has opposed the bill on the grounds it establishes quotas in hiring and the president has threatened a veto. The Rev. Joseph F. Lowery, Atlanta pastor who heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said at a news conference June 3 that "the president has betrayed his commitment to civil rights" by working "vehemently and viciously against civil rights."

200TH ANNIVERSARY
THE BILL OF RIGHTS

National Bill Of Rights Tour Arrives In Portland

Ten tractor trailers, four vans, three Jeeps, two buses and a secure transport vehicle roll into Portland next week from Honolulu, Hawaii, escorting a priceless cargo—an original, scribed copy of the Bill Rights—which will be on display at the Portland Expo Center as part of a 50-state tour presented by Philip Morris Companies Inc.

The tour celebrates the 200 anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights and will cover more than 25,000 miles over a 14-month period before the document is returned to its home in Richmond, Virginia. The exhibit, open to the public free of charge, features Virginia's original copy of the document, on loan from the Virginia State Library and Archives.

"For the first time, the citizens of Oregon have the opportunity to view this historic document in their home state," said Guy L. Smith IV, vice president of corporate affairs for Philip Morris Companies Inc. "The logistics of this enormous project have been overwhelming, taking more than 18 months of advance planning and arrangements."

The 15,000-square-foot exhibit, housed in a high-tech pavilion, presents a kaleidoscope of video images from Martin Luther King to Chief Justice Earl Warren, interspersed with other civil liberties issues falling under the protections guaranteed by the Bill of Rights. Film clips from classic movies, such as Mr. Smith Goes to Washington in which the principles of the Bill of Rights are eloquently and dramatically expressed, are presented on monitors throughout the exhibit. A musical fanfare heralds the arrival of the document itself, and visitors stand within two feet of the parchment as it rises from beneath the floor.

The exhibit, designed to appeal to all age groups, will be on display from June 19-23. Hours are: 10 a.m. - 8 p.m. on June 19-22 and from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. on June 23. From Portland, the tour moves on to Juneau, Alaska.

The Bill of Rights Tour is presented by Philip Morris Companies Inc., the world's largest producer of consumer packaged goods.
