In Loving Memory of Jessie Mae Varner

March 2, 1919 - August 10, 1991

Jessie Mae Varner

Jessie Mae Varner was born in Roston, Arkansas on March 2, 1919, to Lewis and Mary J. Moss. She was the fifth of eight children. Jessie attended Oakgrove High School and enjoyed playing basketball in those early years. She furthered her education at Pine Bluff College in Pine Bluff, Arkansas. In 1943 she moved to Portland, Oregon, becoming one of the few black women welders. In 1947 she married James P. Varner and to this union two children were born.

Jessie worked in the medical field at Saint Vincent Hospital for thirteen years. In 1965 she became Director of C-CAP (Church Community Action Program). She was also a member of the Order of the Eastern Stars P.H.A., and the United Methodist Women.

From 1968 to 1983 Jessie worked as a community agent for the Portland Public Schools. In this role she inspired many would-be dropouts to continue their formal education.

In 1983 she retired only to find herself a volunteer for Loaves and Fishes; later she became Assistant Manager.

Jessie, a Christian, was a member of Hughes Memorial United Methodist Church. Throughout her life she touched the lives of many, both young and old. The experience with Jessie was always positive and inspiring.

Her well spent life came to an end on August 10, 1991. She leaves loving memories with her husband of forty-four years, James P. Varner; four brothers, Willie Moss of Dallas, Texas, Dexter Moss of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Delma Moss of Little Rock, Arkansas, and Chester Moss of Oakland, California; two children, Charles C. Moss and Brenda Y. Hill of Portland, Oregon; two grandchildren, Damany A. Williams and Kiara C. Hill; and a host of family members and friends.

In Loving Memory of Geneva Warren

Geneva Cage Warren

She united with the Union Baptist Church, Rev. C. Thompson, Pastor. After the death of Rev. Thompson, she became a member of Vancouver Avenue First Baptist Church and was a faithful member. There she served diligently with Senior Missionary Elizabeth Circle until she became disabled.

She leaves to mourn her passing away, her beloved husband of fifty-six years and five months, Willie Warren; one son, Julius Miller and daughter-in-law Clara Miller of Portland; two grandchildren, Ms. Sharon Miller and Richard Glenn Miller of Portland; one great-grandchild, Miss Tamara Sie of Portland; sisters, Mrs. Sophonia Miller of Clarkdale, Mississippi, Mrs. Laurie Figures of Grand Rapids, Michigan, Ms. Idella Cage of Portland, Mrs. Hattie Mae Richardson of Moss Point, Mississippi; brothers, J.B. Cage of Vicksburg, Mississippi, Tommy Cage of Grand Rapids, Michigan, W.C. Cage of Portland; and a host of nieces and nephews.

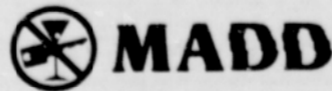

We all will miss you Geneva, but someday, that great and wonderful day, we will meet again, and what a rejoicing that will be. We love you so.

The family wishes to specially thank Deacon Bush and Deacon Graham, serving her communion. Also to everyone, whatever the contribution was, during her illness.
