The Wind In The Willows Special Performance

Oregon Children's Theatre Company presents Kenneth Grahame's classic, The Wind In The Willows, at the Civic Auditorium (222 SW Clay) on Sunday, January 12 at 1:00 p.m. This is the only public performance of The Great American Children's Theatre Company production which opens its national tour in Portland and will play to more than 40,000 students from local area schools. Tickets for the Sunday performance are $9.00, $8.00, and $7.00 and can be purchased through the PCPA Box Office - 248-4496 - or any GI Joe's Ticketmaster outlet (subject to convenience charge).

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

For forty years the Blanchet House has been serving the needy of our community. We have always kept a low profile - not seeking publicity - but quietly going about the work of helping our less fortunate neighbors.

Hopefully you will feel the need to give us a helping hand to provide some of the very basic necessities for our brothers and sisters.

We will be very grateful for any help you can give us at this time.

Thank you.
Please remember you are welcome to drop by the House at anytime and see what we are doing here.

We are located at 340 NW Glisan (4th and Northwest Glisan).

Sincerely,
Alfred J Riley
Executive Director

Get Ready For Mayor's Ball 1992

The Portland Music Association is pleased to announce The 8th Annual Mayor's Ball will be held on Friday, April 17, 1992 at the Memorial Coliseum.

Mayor's Ball 8, the largest collection of talent under one roof, in one night, anywhere in the world, will feature the best of Portland's live original music.

Performers/groups who would like to apply to perform at Mayor's Ball 8 can obtain an application form, by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to PMA, PO Box 6723, Portland, OR 97228. Application deadline is February 3, 1992.

Historically, this fund-raiser has distributed over $300,000 to local charitable organizations that are often underfunded, overlooked or just unknown. This year's 8th Annual Mayor's Ball beneficiaries will be announced shortly.

Volunteer positions are available in all areas. Call the Mayor's Ball Hotline at 503-223-9681 for more information.

New Support Groups For Caregivers

A new support group for caregivers will begin meeting the third Tuesday of each month at Education and Family Support Services, Good Samaritan Hospital & Medical Center.

The Caregiver Support Group will meet Tuesday, Jan. 21, 7 - 8:30 p.m. in Room 300 of Good Samaritan's Neurological Sciences Center, 1040 NW 22nd Ave.

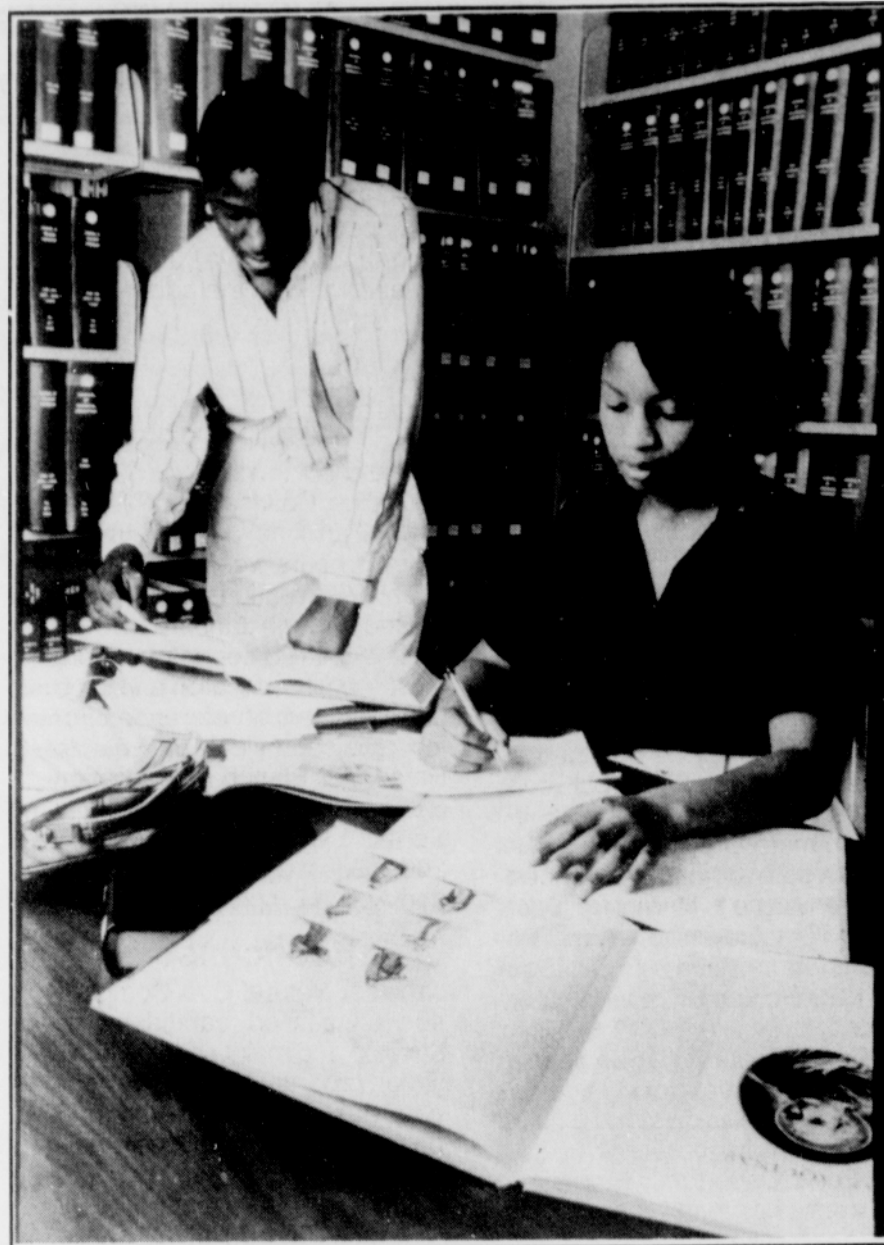

Caregivers can be paid professionals or volunteers caring for a parent or other family member. Caregivers often try to do too much and fail to take care of themselves. Fatigue, poor diet, and lack of exercise coupled with the day-to-day tasks of caregiving can lead to emotional or physical exhaustion.

A support group can provide access to both the latest information and practical solutions and coping strategies. It can also help combat feelings of isolation by sharing with those who understand.

There are no fees to join the support group and pre-registration is not required. For more information, please contact Good Samaritan Education and Family Support Services at 229-7348.

United Negro College Fund Announces $3.7 Million Grant From AT&T

Library facilities such as those used by students at Dillard University in New Orleans will be upgraded at 41 United Negro college Fund member schools as a result of a $3.7 million AT&T Foundation grant to UNCF's Campaign 2000: An investment in America's Future, the most ambitious fundraising campaign in UNCF's history. The grant to UNCF is the largest single gift ever made by the AT&T Foundation.

The United Negro College Fund announced that the AT&T Foundation will contribute a $3.7 million grant to the UNCF's CAMPAIGN 2000: An Investment in America's Future. The grant -- the largest single grant ever given by the AT&T Foundation -- will support libraries at the 41 member schools of the UNCF and will be used to buy new books and other materials as well as to make physical improvements to the libraries.

A portion of the AT&T grant has been set aside to establish a UNCF "President's Initiatives Fund," which will support projects initiated under the leadership of new UNCF President & CEO William H. Gray, III.

"I am pleased to accept this contribution and to acknowledge the AT&T Foundation for its long-standing support," said Gray. "This level of funding shows AT&T's extraordinary leadership in support to historically black colleges and universities. This specific contribution to libraries shows AT&T's deep understanding of the critical role these facilities play in the undergraduate experience."

"AT&T is proud of its long-standing partnership with both the United Negro College Fund and the nation's historically black colleges," said AT&T Chairman Robert E. Allen. "We hope this grant will provide valuable resources for the college libraries and enrich each student's experience of independent research and self discovery."

The $3.7 million grant to UNCF is in addition to AT&T's on-going support for historically black college and universities. AT&T will continue to fund its HBCU Engineering and Computer Science Program, which concentrates on ten historically black schools and provides technical grants and equipment donations.

All Tri-Met rides are free after 6 p.m. New Year's Eve as a reminder that Tri-Met is a safe alternative to drinking and driving all year long.

Tri-Met will add late night service on MAX and 15 major bus lines in hopes that even more people will celebrate safely.

Those celebrating the new year should note that the last MAX train of the night will leave Pioneer Courthouse Square at 2:36 a.m. The last buses will leave the Portland Mall at 2:32 a.m.

Tri-Met will add special late-night buses on lines:

- 4 - Fessenden, to St. Johns
  - 4 - Division, to 122nd and Division
