Top PRCA PRO Rodeo Action

The best in PRCA professional rodeo action returns to Memorial Coliseum January 10-12. It's the Wrangler ProRodeo classic, sanctioned by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA); points won at this event will be tallied towards qualification to the $3 million National Finals Rodeo (NFR) in Las Vegas next December. Top rodeo cowboys value early season wins and this Portland event could prove to be the difference between qualifying for the 1992 NFR or simply watching it on ESPN.

Past, present and future World Champion cowboys from over 30 states and Canada will compete on the best livestock from four PRCA approved stock contractors. Rodeo producer Jerome Robinson brings together This top-notch livestock to match the high level of rodeo contestants drawn each year to his best Northwest rodeos.

Featured PRCA approved competition will include Bareback Riding, Steer Wrestling, Saddle Bronc Riding, Calf Roping and Bull Riding, with the Wrangler sponsored bull fighting clowns pitting their skills against the man-hating brahama bulls.

Colorful western pageantry is always a part of the Wrangler ProRodeo Classic and this year is no exception. Rodeo fans will feel a proud sense of patriotism as the voice of John Wayne narrates what it is like to be an American, and colorful pageantry, western-style, fills the rodeo arena. Top rodeo entertainment will be featured as pro rodeo's funniest clowns continuously entertain spectators as a part of Wrangler ProRodeo classic. The production elements are enhanced with special lighting techniques and set to music with a live brass band. The show-stopping finale will leave rodeo fans humming "Happy Trails."

Top PRCA pro rodeo action combined with a glittering entertainment spectacular makes the Wrangler ProRodeo Classic a great family show. Plus as a special attraction for the youngsters, there will be Free Pony Rides just prior to every performance in the rodeo arena!
