When I grow up I want to be an actress because I see people on television and they read their lines very well. I want to be an actress because I think it would be fun to meet new people. Also because you can meet famous people like Bel Biv Devoe. And because since I watched the Fresh Prince of Belair I've always wanted to be an actress and that was not a long time.

Nicole Riley

When I grow up I want to be a doctor. I want to be a doctor because they're paid good money. I also want to be a doctor because I think it's nice to help people. All my family and relatives want me to be a doctor also. I also want to be a doctor because I love to help out other people.

I would like to be a hydraulic man, because I like to install hydraulics. A lot of cars will come in my shop and buy wheels and tires. I would also put carpet in cars and have two workers to help me put it in. I would sell a lot of battery chargers for people.

Dexter Foster

I would like to be like Bo Jackson. I would like to play baseball, basketball and football because I like all of those sports. I would also like to do gymnastics.

Devon Saahir

I would like to be a football player when I grow up. I like it because it is a fun sport. I also think it is challenging. I am good at it, too. I want to break the rushing record. I idolize Walter Payton.

THIS IS HOW A DESPERATE DRUG ADDICT SEES YOUR CHILD.

1 WAL OF CRACK COCAINE
3 PACKETS OF HEROIN
1 BAG OF MARIJUANA
A QUARTER DOZAN OF COCAINE

He doesn't see the energetic, young mind that's underneath the cassette recorder. He doesn't see the much-loved kid on the block that's inside the leather jacket. All he sees is the cassette recorder and the jacket, and how to get the money for his next fix.

But the drug addict's real blindness is that he'll never see the heartbreak he will cause when he leaves your child lying on the street.

You must fight back. You can make a difference. Start now by calling 1-800-WE PREVENT and we'll send you information on successful ways to join with others to protect your children from crime in your neighborhood.
