Airport Shuttle Service

By Tony Washington

When Verda Washington, a long time employee at the Federal Reserve Bank in Downtown Portland, decided to pursue other avenues it wasn't easy. After 20 years she wanted to provide more than a service, there was something more to her advantage, being herself. A kind, thoughtful individual she saw an opportunity to give the Metropolitan Area direct, personalized airport service.

Ms. Washington explains, "This was not an easy choice for me. After 20 years, I wanted to enhance my life and be good at it. I was getting to the point that the main focus was giving back."

Her service has done both. A mentor at Thomas Jefferson high school located at 5210 N. Kerby she found being a mentor was better than a role model. "Role models are perfect, I am not, so I chose to be almost perfect. You hear about sport figures being role models until something goes wrong, and then they are victimized. That's not fair to them, they are human too. When they do positive things ok, other than that being ridiculed seems to be the next step."

A very successful business is Airport Shuttle Service which can provide you with personalized service that can't be beat. Dependable, prompt and kind service is what her employees provide, and it's great!

Seeing the need for reliable transportation in seemingly difficult situations, this service can make it easier for personal or business travelers.

I think we can see how important it is for this to be our outlet for traveling. Portland is a growing City, and Airport Shuttle Service is a growing business. Call today for rates you will be impressed by it. Airport Shuttle Service offers a 24 hr service which can easily be arranged by just a phone call 1-800-452-0687.

Job Training Beats Unemployment

The Vancouver site placed 93% of its daytime graduates who were seeking employment related to their training last year. Karyn Miller emphasizes that those graduates who aren't looking for work can come back later to get job placement assistance when they do decide to enter the job market.

BCTI operates seven training sites including the Vancouver and Beaverton Schools, and plans to open more sites within the year. Business Computer Training Institute is nationally accredited by the Accrediting Council for Continuing Education and Training (ACCET), which is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.
