KBPS AM/FM & Flash Forward Radio Theater Team Up At ArtQuake

Portlanders will get a chance to experience live radio theater at ArtQuake, as the Flash Forward Radio Theater company brings audience participation to its performances on the Cabaret Stage, Saturday, September 5th, at 3:15 P.M. Live actors... live sound effects... live laughs... come see how it's all done, with a lot of imagination, maybe a couple of coconuts, galvanized steel and other props, both exotic and ordinary.

Elaine Garner, Flash Forward's founder and director, was formerly a producer and instructor at KBPS-AM, where she conducted classroom workshops for students in sound effects and writing for radio. She also produced stories and dramas written and acted by students groups for on-air broadcast and instructional program series. The Portland Public School students who visit KBPS today could become the Flash Forward members of tomorrow.

ArtQuake visitors can also stop by the KBPS booth to learn about classroom workshops, performance opportunities for students, the broadcasting and communications training program for high school students, the educational programming of KBPS-AM and the classical music programming of KBPS-FM. Free program guides and bumper stickers will be available, and KBPS mugs, t-shirts and sweatshirts may also be purchased.

University of Portland Chorus to Begin Rehearsals

The University of Portland's University Chorus begins rehearsals for its 1992-1993 season at 7 P.M. Monday, September 14 in Buckley Center Auditorium on the University Campus.

The season schedule will include performances at The Grotto and with the University Orchestra and University Singers, said chorus director Kenneth Klesynski, an associate professor of music.

No auditions are required for the chorus composed of students, University faculty, staff and community members. For more information, contact Klesynski at 283-7294 or 646-6070.

The University of Portland is one of the largest private, higher education institutions in the Northwest. It is the only school in Oregon to offer a College of Arts and Sciences, a Graduate School and nationally accredited schools of Business, Education, Engineering and Nursing. The residential four-year Catholic University is affiliated with the Congregation of Holy Cross, Notre Dame, Ind.
