Swish Wins Van Grack 3 on 3

BY JOHN PHILIPS

Aaron Bell led the team of Andre Jones and Randy Bell to the first Van Grack 3 on 3 Basketball labor day tournament Championship at Irving Park. Swish went through the tournament like a hot knife through butter. The closest game Swish had was the championship, because Eric Dunn, Wilbur Warren and Barry Davis of the Dawgs, made Swish work for a 22-16 win.

Swish did not lose a game in the tournament and I would say the Aaron Bell would easily be the MVP of the tournament. Robin Marks of Van Grack's did an outstanding job on the Labor Day Tournament.

All participants received Van Grack's T-Shirts and had a treat when former Blazers Maurice Lucas led the Tip-Off at mid court, of the opening game.

The participants put on a show for the 150 or more spectators at the northeast Portland Park.

Miss Marks said the tournament was a big success and is looking forward to next years 3 on 3.

There were many people that helped the tournament go as well as it did, but two Groups stood out, the coalition of womens AAU Basketball team.

Robin, The Van Grack 3 on 3 Basketball Labor Day Tournament was great and we wish you lock with next year's 3 on 3 and all the things you do with Van Grack.

Robin Helzer

Don Dixon, Counselor & PCC Basketball Coach

Robin Helzer, better known as "Ace", volunteers full-time at Jefferson High School. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to closing and often on a Saturday, Ace can be found at Jefferson. He fills in consistently wherever possible to help keep the school running smoothly. He is known by everyone on campus as a person who can be counted on to get the job done, whether it be assisting the Cheerleading Advisor or entering data in the computer for the librarian. Ace generally works in the library where he checks books and magazines in and out and files overdue notices. He also handles U.S. and Pony mail, works in the production room, helps with basketball, wrestling and cheerleading events, and assists with the Martin Luther King Living the Dream Program held at Jefferson. Ace enjoys helping in any way he can and in any capacity. If there's a dance, he'll chaperon. If there's a parent night or other meeting, he is always of assistance.

Ace began at Jefferson in 1982. For eight years he worked part-time in the main office. However, due to Measure 5, the salary for his position was cut. He liked the school so much he wanted to stay. Now Ace volunteers his work around Jefferson:

Ace is a hard worker who has been an enormous help throughout the school. Volunteers like Ace are critical to the continued success of extra-curricular programs in this time of diminishing resources.

Cellular One Supports Local Charities And Community Through Co-Sponsorship Of Ping-Cellular One 1992 LPGA Tournament

Cellular Phones/Technology provide valuable service

Almost a half million dollars is expected to go to Oregon charities this year as a result of the Ping-Cellular One 1992 LPGA Tournament. Cellular One of Oregon and SW Washington see their involvement as a means to benefit local children's charities while promoting volunteerism within their corporation and community.

"We initially got involved in the tournament because of its benefit to local children's charities and we liked that it was run totally by volunteers" said Rich Begert, General Manager of Cellular One in Oregon and SW Washington. Over 700 volunteers will add to the success of the Ping-Cellular One tournament this year. Cellular One staff will be volunteering as scorekeepers, marshals, information guides and other tournament crew.

The proceeds from the tournament will benefit over 11 charities including Waverly Childrens Home, Easter Seals Society, Boys and Girls Club, Oregon Junior Golf and Evans Scholarship Fund which provides full scholastic scholarships to state universities for students who have caddied for two years and to meet scholastic requirements. The tournament is now the second largest charitable event in the state.

CellularOne will also support tournament operations with its cellular phone technology. Scorekeepers at each green are able to call in new scores to "scoring central" after each hole so reader boards throughout the course may be immediately updated for players and spectators.

Cellular technology is also important on the course as an emergency response tool. At a past tournament, a heart attack victim watching the tournament from deep into the course was able to get fast medical assistance because a cellular phone equipped volunteer at the hole called directly for help.

Cellular One of Oregon and SW Washington is a wholly-owned subsidiary of McCaw Cellular communications, the leading cellular communications provider in the United States. Cellular One locally employs over 250 people, managing operations throughout Oregon and SW Washington.

Freshman full back J.D. Stewart gained 40 yards on 9 carries during the Beavers' season opener, but Oregon State lost 20-49 to the Kansas Jayhawks. The Beavers are young and in their second year under coach Jerry Pettibone, but expect to see a better team this year. Game 2 is Saturday in Corvallis against Fresno State at 1:00pm.
