Inspection Report Shows Our Cars Need Attention

If fuel is the only fluid you think about when you're filling up at the service station, heed this reminder from the Car Care Council: check the oil once in a while, as well as the transmission fluid and anti-freeze.

With more than 80% of gas now pumped by owners at self-serve pumps, fluids, tires and windshield wipers, among other things, too often are neglected.

The results of a 12,000 car inspection report by the Automotive Aftermarket Research Council shows better than one out of four of 12,000 vehicles checked during the National Car Care Month were low on oil or needed an oil change. Nearly half had less than minimum recommended antifreeze protection.

Summarizing the annual vehicle check lane results during the organizations' spring meeting Joe McCourt, of First Brands, Inc. He said four out of five vehicles failed one or more parts of the inspection; one out of five failed the emissions test.

The annual program, coordinated by the Car Care Council, is designed to heighten public awareness about the importance of proper vehicle maintenance. Information for the report, tabulated by Automotive Market Research Council, came from inspection lanes in 65 locations around the U.S.A.

Tires failed inspection last year more than any time since 1988. 29% of cars had tires with incorrect inflation pressure and/or unsatisfactory tread.

McCourt said, "Our 1991 survey of motorist reaction showed 83% of the people who took their vehicles through the inspection lane learned more about preventive maintenance, 99% thought the program should be repeated, and more than 40% took care of needed service as a result of the program."

Alpenrose Six Day Bicycle Race

The Alpenrose Six Day will be held June 28 through July 3 at the Alpenrose Velodrome in Portland. Six Day bicycle racing is a team racing format pioneered in the United States at the turn of the century. This format of racing is now popular in Europe, giving cycling fans a chance to see the professional road racing stars compete teamed with a track racing specialist, with races held on indoor velodromes in the winter.

The Alpenrose Six Day is the only six day held in North America. This will be the second year that this event has been held. Rides will compete in two man teams, using hand slings to exchange places in the race. Racing will be held every evening, starting at 6:30 PM Monday through Friday and at 11:00 AM on Saturday. Spectator admission is free.

The Alpenrose Velodrome has recently been resurfaced and repainted to prepare for this event. The Alpenrose Velodrome is located on the grounds of the Alpenrose Dairy, 6149 SW Shattuck Road, Portland.

Mother's Day And Father's Day Cards Help To Fight Abuse And Neglect

In addition to candy, flowers, socks and ties, Oregonians had a special way to show their parents how much they care. Children's Trust Fund of Oregon raised over $3,000 through the "Share The Love" Campaign, a new fundraising program to fight child abuse and neglect. The program is tied to the Mother's Day and Father's Day holidays.

Individuals from around Oregon made donations in the name of one or both of their parents. A donor's mother or father received a special card from Children's Trust Fund of Oregon during the week before each holiday. The cover artwork on the cards was selected from entries submitted by children.

Rick Perrin of Portland sent the Mother's Day card to his mother. "My mother was so pleased with the card and with idea that a donation had been made in her name to CTFO that she kept the card by her bedside. It wasn't just another box of candy or bunch of flowers."

Every dollar donated to Children's Trust Fund of Oregon goes toward community programs around the state, not to cover administrative costs.

Children's Trust Fund of Oregon is statewide non-profit organization committed to funding child abuse prevention programs. Created by the 1985 Legislature to combat alarming increase in reported cases of abuse and neglect, the Children's Trust Fund has channeled approximately $1.5 million to over 45 organizations throughout the state of Oregon. Organizations funded by Children's Trust Fund of Oregon fall into three categories: comprehensive support programs for teens, home visiting programs conducted by nurses or volunteers and patenting and other life skill groups/classes.

CTFO announced that the "Share The Love" Campaign will be an annual fundraising effort.
