Minority Auto Dealer Development Program Finalized—Representatives from Nissan North America, Northwood University and Xavier University met recently to finalize the details of an innovative scholarship program sponsored by Nissan for minority students interested in automotive careers. The Nissan scholarships are awarded in partnership with New Orleans-based Xavier, one of the country's leading historically black colleges and universities, and Northwood (Midland, MI), which offers a four-year automotive degree with an emphasis on business. The program awards select students a $10,000, four-year renewable scholarship. Recipients will be employed at Nissan during the summer and may be eligible for additional incentives worth $125,000 while pursuing their automotive careers following graduation. Xavier President Dr. Norman Francis (center), welcomes from Nissan (from l-r) Ernie Stroman, manager-EEQ/Affirmative Action, Ron Stone, manager-dealer placement, and Dierdre Francis-Dickerson, Nissan manager-public affairs and Paul Strawhecker, vice president development for Northwood University

Zoo Holds Pow Wow Environmental Fair

The third annual Pow Wow (Preserve Our World) environmental fair will take place Saturday, July 10 at Metro Washington Park Zoo. The event is designed to educate visitors about ways to reduce wild habitat loss and species decline rates.

Thirty-five organizations will sponsor booths and activities on the zoo grounds from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Conservation-oriented groups such as Metropolitan Greenspaces, Oregon Department of Forestry and Unified Sewerage Agency will share their expertise on habitat and species preservation.

Other organizations, such as Oregon Department of Transportation, Far West Fibers and Recycling Advocates, will provide information on recycling procedures and how to decrease the amount of material to be recycled.

Fun activities and information for all ages, including games, handouts and hands-on activities will be provided at all booths. Spin a roulette wheel, take a quiz, shoot a hoop -- or even build your own compost pile in a cup.

Stage entertainment will feature the Carousel Company Theater for Children sponsored by the City of Portland Environmental Services. Multnomah County librarians will tell stories about conservation and endangered animals.
