

African American Heritage Series On Commemorative Postage Stamps

In honor of Black History Month, the U.S. Postal Service is making available to any interested group, classroom, or school, either a ten minute video presentation, or twenty minute slide presentation of stamps that have honored African-Americans.

The U.S. Postal Service has commemorated individual achievements of African-Americans and their contributions to U.S. history on more than 50 postage stamps. In 1994, 13 individuals will be honored with The Black Heritage series of commemorative postage stamps.

Banking Association Announces Third Annual Scholarship Awards

The Oregon Association of Urban Bankers (OAUB), an association of minority professionals in the financial services industry, announces its third annual scholarship program. Two $1,500 will be awarded to qualified high school seniors interested in pursuing a careers in the financial services industry.

Eligible applicants must be African-American students with a minimum 3.0 GPA and plans to attend a two- or four-year college. Applicants will be selected based on their community/school service, leadership activities, letters of recommendation and their personal statement. Interested students can obtain an application from their school counselor. Deadline for returning the completed packet to the counselor is April 15.

The Oregon Association of Urban Bankers was formed in 1990 to give its membership a forum to exchange ideas, experiences and interests which promote career and professional development. The Portland Chapter members represent many major companies in Portland, including American State Bank, Bank of America, First Interstate Bank, Key Bank of Oregon, Portland Development Commission, the Portland Housing Center, State Farm Insurance, U.S. Bank and Washington Mutual Savings Bank. OAUB has awarded scholarships totaling $3,500 since its inception. Other activities include an annual community financial services workshop and annual awards banquet. OAUB is an affiliate of the National Association of Urban Bankers (NAUB), which represents over 2,000 minority professionals in 40 chapters throughout the United States. Minority professionals in insurance, banking, accounting, brokerage and securities, and real estate are encouraged to join.

"Women Who Go Above And Beyond"

(Contest Searches for Extraordinary Women; Grand Prize Winners to Attend Seventh Annual Essence Awards in New York City)

Beauty and power can go hand in hand, and Revlon ColorStyle, celebrating the beauty of women, and AJee, a new scent capturing the power of women everywhere, unite to sponsor the second "Women Who Go Above and Beyond" contest with Essence Magazine, the country's preeminent lifestyle magazine for Black women. The contest is seeking women ages 18 and older who are distinguished by their commitment to helping others and their inner beauty. Three winners will be granted Grand Prize packages that include a three-day trip for two to New York City, $1,000 in cash and two tickets for the Seventh Annual Essence Awards at the Paramount Theatre, Madison Square Garden, on Friday, April 22.

Official "Women Who Go Above

and Beyond" rules and entry forms are available in the March 1994 issue of Essence magazine. Entrants are asked to explain in 100 words or less "How I went above and beyond" and submit a recent color photograph. Essays may include such topics as how they have served as role models in the community, volunteer activities, activities in community service organizations, monetary contributions, etc. Preliminary and final judging will be based on: impact of activity/involvement on a segment of society; degree of personal involvement on the part of the entrant, overall projection of the Revlon and Essence image, and clarity of thought and expression. Deadline for receipt of entries is March 31, 1994.

ColorStyle is a cosmetics line of color-enriched palettes that enhance the face, eyes, lips and nails of the contemporary African American woman. ColorStyle's high performance ingredients make the formulations a breakthrough in makeup for Women of Color. AJee is a lush, sensual fragrance rooted in the exotic beauty and mystery that is the essence of Africa. Blending floral and spicy notes from the Continent with myrrh, musk and other compounds, AJee creates a compelling scent that speaks to all that is purely and powerfully female.

With 5.1 million readers, Essence Magazine is the leading source of beauty, fashion, celebrity, career and health information, as well as cutting edge reports on issues that impact the lives of today's Black women.
