

University of Portland Student Wins PMN Minority Scholarship

Cheryl Coxeff, a recent University of Portland graduate, has won a Western Scholars grant to attend the April 7-10 Pacific Mountain Network annual meeting in Denver, Colo. PMN, a public television network and organization of 13 Western state members, awarded the scholarships to 20 winners, with Coxeff the only Oregon recipient.

Coxeff, who earned a bachelor's degree in social work and certificate in gerontology in December was also awarded the University of Portland's Outstanding Social Work Student Award. She recently assisted in producing a video titled "Moon Stories: Cultural Variations in Aging" with University social work and gerontology professor Joseph Gallegos, and is planning several other gerontological documentaries.

In April, the 20 grant winners will compete for 10 paid internships at PMN member stations this summer. This is the first year PMN is offering the internships, designed to encourage minority college students to consider public television careers. At the annual meeting, public

The three-month internships include housing, transportation and a $3,000 salary.

PCC Celebrates Hispanic/Latino Heritage Month During May

Portland Community College will host a month-long celebration of Hispanic/Latino cultural traditions during May. The theme is "vozes Unidas Celebrando Razes Hispanas" (United Voices Celebrating Latino Roots).

College wide events have been planned and displays will be featured at the learning resource centers at the Cascade, Rock Creek and Sylvania campuses.

On Thursday, May 5, a panel of leading Latino(a) educators will discuss the first draft of a National Higher Education Action Plan during a morning at the PCC Rock Creek Campus, 17705 N. W. Springville Road. Lunch and materials are included in the $25 cost. The event will take place from 9:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Forum in Building 3. Preregistration is requested by April 28.

Also on May 5 at the Rock Creek Campus, the Associated Students of PCC will celebrate Cinco De Mayo with music, food and fun for the whole family, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Other planned events are:

1994 Vancouver Festival-Where Summer Begins

The Vancouver Festival, a sanctioned Rose Festival event, is seeking the best in amateur and semi-professional talent from Clark County. Artists will be showcased at the festival's People's Stage, one of the four major performance areas.

Artists will perform during the weekend of June 18 and 19. Everyone is encouraged to audition from children to seniors. "We're looking for musicians, dancers, stand-up comedy to theater. If you've got talent, we want to hear about it," said Rusty Moe, talent coordinator.

Selected performers will be in good company with the likes of The Temptations, Mary Wilson of The Supremes, Curtis Salgado and many other top local, regional and national acts.

For performance and audition criteria Monday-Friday, contact Rusty Moe, City of Vancouver, (206)696-8031, or evenings and weekends, Chris Thompson (206)573-4468.
