

Summer Safety Program

"We are excited to be part of the national agenda," said Fred Williams, President of PAL and partner of Perkins and Co. "With additional corporate support for our base programs and our partnership with Leaders Roundtable, we will make an impact this summer through crime prevention efforts."

Announced by President Clinton at an AmeriCorps Public Safety Forum on March 10 in Brooklyn, New York, Summer of Safety will involve nearly 7,000 participants who will serve with 91 projects in 70 urban and rural locations around the United States.

"Summer of Safety participants will help American people take their communities back," said Eli Segal, assistant to Clinton and CEO of the Corporation for National Service. "They will come together across generations, ethnically and income levels to do the work that communities deem most necessary in their critical fight against crime and violence."

In June 1994, PAL will increase its crime prevention efforts by opening its first PAL Youth Center in the Rockwood neighborhood. A ribbon cutting ceremony and introduction of the VISTA Summer Associates is scheduled for June 14, 11:30 a.m. at 424 N.E. 172nd. The 35 VISTA Summer Associates will be based at the PAL Youth Center coordinating recreation-based programs, a National Night Out, graffiti paint-over projects, neighborhood canvassing with safety information and counseling in various summer sports camps.

"The VISTA grant gives PAL an opportunity to introduce college-aged students to a whole new experience," said Portland State student Jerry Cioeta. "It introduces us to community children, and gives us hands-on experience about what today's children are facing in society."

Applications are available through PAL (248-5011), the Leaders Roundtable (228-8617), and the Corporation for National Service office (231-2103). Applications are being accepted through May 30th.

Investing In Interest Sensitive Options

No one has probably told you that everytime the interest rates move up a percentage point this will devastate all investments in this country. It has a far reaching effect, more than the average person realizes.

The world debt is approximately 41 trillion dollars. This means that when the interest rates rise one percent, one class of people must pay the debtors. In this case, you would have to pay the creditors approximately 41 billion dollars. This is why rising interest rates can cause so many problems in this country and also abroad. The rising interest rates affect everything, stock plunges and the collapse of real estate investments. The dollar drops in value and becomes almost worthless. Banks and insurance companies who have large investments in real estate will collapse right along with everything else. High interest rates cause catastrophic economic effects nationally and internationally.

The interest rates are under the control of the Federal Reserve Board, and its banks. Most of you don't know that the Federal Reserve System is not a part of the federal government even though it sounds like part of the government. The Federal Reserve is a private corporation that is privately owned and locally controlled. The Federal Reserve Board, and its banks have been given a mandate by Congress to issue money and control the monetary system in this country. You can be assured that this private corporation will raise interest rates 2-3 times more before the end of the year.

You can profit from this interest rate market. Each day, interest rates exceed 700 billion dollars. That is approximately 70 times what is traded on all the stock markets in this country in one day. So you can see this is big business.

Some of the more affluent investors are saying that you can start investing in Interest Sensitive Options with a small amount of cash, as little as $50 to $100 plus commission. You can control $1 million dollars of federal reserve notes. This is what you call real leverage, 10,000 to 1.

The profit from this small investment can grow into thousands of dollars in a short period of time because everytime the interest rates rise in percentage points, your investment will earn a profit. The only thing you stand to lose in this investment is your initial investment which is only $50 to $100. But, if interest rates move upward, say one percent, that $50 or $100 could be worth $1,200 - $1,500. This could be made in days or in weeks. But, what if you invested let's say $1,000 and interest rates rose to about half the amount that they did under President Carter's administration, that $1,000 investment would grow into approximately $375,000 in a short time.

If you will recall, the last time we had a Democratic Administration, prime interest rates rose to 21.5 percent, the T-bills were beyond 17 percent, so you can see that interest rates are going to climb upward before the end of the year; so why not make a profit from this, by investing in Interest Sensitive Options. You can find out about how you can begin to invest these options by calling a stockbroker and getting further information.

This is the kind of investment that will let you sleep at night without worrying about how much you are going to lose on your investment... so check it out.

As I stated before, interest rates are the core of the world's financial markets. There is going to be high profits made from investing in the interest rate market from 1994 until 1997. The rates have always risen under the Democratic Administration. You are probably not aware of this, but every local, state and federal government is involved in the interest rate markets.

Hatfield To Put Spotlight On Environment

U.S. Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., will chair a "Listening To America" meeting in Portland to solicit viewpoints and ideas from Oregonians whose livelihoods depend on evenhanded environmental policies that foster economic growth. The meeting will focus on the impact of environmental policies on salmon recovery and the timber industry.

"For too long, the American people have been shut out of policy decisions that affect their families and business on a day-to-day basis," said Haley Barbour, chairman of the Republican-oriented "Listening to America" project. The project is sponsored by the National Policy Forum: A Republican Center for the Exchange of Ideas.

The meeting will be held June 2, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Portland Marriott, 1401 SW Front Ave., Salon D. The meeting will focus on audience participation and is open to the public, free of charge. All concerned citizens are invited to attend.

"Environmental policies and their impact on jobs and economic growth are at the forefront of the national policy debate," Barbour said. "It's a critical debate that absolutely must take place, but, too often, the discussion is confined to Washington with very little input from the people who are affected by these policies day-in and day-out."

According to Barbour, "Listening to America" is designed to broaden the debate over issues like environmental policies by giving Americans at the grassroots level, regardless of party affiliation, a voice in developing national policies.

In the fight over solid waste, we don't point fingers. We point to answers.
