teach and share new ideas with others. But perhaps most importantly I will bring my will to always want to learn. I hope that by me participating with Les Femmes, I can and will become a better person," Bowles said.

Clark, a senior at Grant High School, is the daughter of Shirley Block and Curley Clark.

"What do I bring to Les Femmes as a Debutante? When I first looked at the question I was stuck because I wasn't to sure how to answer. But the more I thought on it the more I seen some of the qualities that I have that could make the group of '95 a better one. I am very friendly and outgoing person. I get along with just about anyone. Also I think I bring my laughter. I can always find something to make people laugh about. I think the quality that I have that really outshines in me is my ability to laugh. I talk about the things that I bring into the group but there are also things that I gain. I have made friends with a lot of people that I would have never spoken to even with people that I thought I didn't like. Les Femmes is an organization that I am glad I joined. It gives me a chance to put out all this energy I have in a positive way with positive people," Clark said.

Henderson, a senior at Benson High School, is the daughter of Rob-in and Jimi Henderson.

What I bring to Les Femmes Debutante is... a lot of self respect and self confidence, a open mind to learn new things and try new adventures. I bring maturity and appreciation of the way my parents instilled it in me. I have a fun, easy going personality and greet everyone with a smile. I bring responsibility for my actions which I use to be a leader. I'm caring and loving to people I know and people I don't know. I bring organization and quality in things that I do. I bring style and a positive attitude by the way that I present myself and dress. I bring cooperation and reasoning to every argument and situation I'm involved in. Last but not least I bring myself because I know where I've come from and who I am," Henderson said.

Hopkins, a senior at Benson High School, is the daughter of Wanda and Stanley Hopkins.

"I believe that I bring to Les Femmes a positive enthusiastic personality. I strive to be a great encouragement and a peer model to the others around me by doing what I know is the right thing. I think by being in this group I will make wonderful, lasting friendships where I can help people to make decisions that will affect them in the future. Because of my solid firm belief in God, and my personal relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ, I am able to share and express myself on a level that will encourage other people around me to grow spiritually, mentally, and emotionally. Many people have told me that I have a wonderful ability to speak my mind without hurting others, which allows me to socially interact well with people. I am blessed to have people in my life that have taught me the importance of having high moral standards and values. Because of this, I know that I will bring an enthusiastic and positive influence to Les Femmes," Hopkins said.

Program director for the event is Rena Allen and co-director is Dolores Jeffries. Allen can be reached at 222-9663, extension 142.

mas in April electricians.

"We had a large crew of 24 volunteer electricians at work on this project, with two at each home. It was great to see their enthusiasm for helping their neighbors have safer, brighter homes," Edwards said.

Friberg Electric Co., an Oregon-Columbia NECA member, provided two service trucks which moved from home to home distributing electrical supplies used by the volunteer Local 48 members, including two ladders, and miscellaneous materials.

"This is just wonderful," said Kelly Holland, one of the home owners who benefitted from the program. "It's a real community service. A little extra security like this will go a long way in our neighborhood and it's personally gratifying to see that these people care about what goes on in our neighborhood."

IBEW Local 48 Business Manager Ed Barnes said he was very proud of the journeymen and apprentices who chose to participate.
