DAVE WINFIELD RETIRES

Dave Winfield, one of only six players in major league history to compile 3,000 hits and 400 homers, announced his retirement today.

Winfield made the announcement at a news conference in New York, saying his injured shoulder made it impossible to continue as a productive major league player. The 44-year-old Winfield struggled through an injury-plagued 1995 season with the Cleveland Indians. He was hampered by a strained rotator cuff in his left shoulder and was left off the Indians' post-season roster. Winfield hit just .193 with two homers and four R-B-I in 45 games with the Indians last season.

UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON CENTER CHRIS DANIELS DIES AT HOSPITAL

University of Dayton starting center Chris Daniels died early this morning at a Dayton Hospital of undetermined causes. He was 22.

Dayton sports information director Doug Hauschild said Daniels was having convulsions at his off-campus home at approximately 4 a.m. EST and was taken to Miami Valley Hospital. Daniels arrived at the hospital at 5:02 a.m. EST in full cardiac arrest and was pronounced dead at 5:31.

INDIANS HERSHISER WILL REMAIN WITH TRIBE

After auditioning for a role with Fox Sports earlier this week, Orel Hershiser apparently will remain with the Cleveland Indians.

Indians General Manager John Hart told the Cleveland Plain Dealer that Hershiser's interest in becoming a broadcaster is on the shelf for now.

"Orel wants to play at least two more years," Hart said. "He was apologetic. He said he definitely wants to keep pitching. This audition is something Orel had planned to do last November. He was in California playing in a golf tournament this week and just decided to do it because he wanted to see if he was any good. But this is something he's thinking about doing down the road."

MODELL REPORTEDLY TALKED WITH SHULA ABOUT BROWNS JOB

Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell reportedly is trying to lure Don Shula out of retirement to coach the team if the franchise is allowed to relocate to Baltimore.

The Washington Post, citing N-F-L sources, reported today that Modell met with Shula, the National Football League's all-time winningest coach, at Modell's home in Palm Beach, Florida, and the subject of Shula's coaching was broached.

"I think he'd like to be involved with an N-F-L team in a major capacity," Modell told the Post. "I'm going to follow it up. I don't know if he wants to coach again in the N-F-L. He didn't seem to be going in that direction, but that could change tomorrow. That's all I can tell you."

Wilson Stuns Benson

With Wilson's Tyrone Manlove out of action, senior David Jackson put the No. 3 ranked Trojans on his back and carried them to a 61-56 victory over the No. 1 ranked Benson Techmen.

Jackson, who could be the best player in the state, led the Trojans on a 19-3 run in the pivotal third quarter with 17 points to give the Trojans a 43-33 lead going into the final period.

Jackson, who was only 1 for 10 from the field in the first half, scored 26 in the second half and had Wilson's first seven points in the third period. The 6 foot 4 senior finished with 31 points to lead the 15-2 Trojans.

Wilson, 12-1 in league, moved into a first place tie with the Techmen for the Portland Interscholastic League championship. Benson, who controlled most of the first half, had won the last five meetings between the talent-laden teams. With no

Manlove, who was on a one game suspension, the Trojans looked to be in for a long night with Benson leading 29-14 late in the second quarter.

But Jackson, who looked a man among boys at times, came out determined in the second half and put on a spectacular performance as the Techmen had no answers.

"We really don't get along that much," said Jackson, the No. 6 scorer in the state, on the fierce rivalry. "It's a game we both really wanted."

Jackson's phenomenal play lit a fire to the Trojan defense in the third quarter, as the Techmen were held to an embarrassingly low three points by the stifling Trojan pressure.

Wilson's Jermaine Thompson had an exceptional game running the Trojan attack and finished with 12 points and some key penetration into the Techmen middle.

Benson, which put on a late run in the fourth quarter, was again led in scoring by Shawn Murray with 17 and the powerful Mark Thomas added 14, but only had two in the second half. The Techmen lost their first PIL game as the Trojans broke their 12 game winning streak with a rare victory at Benson Tech.

In the biggest game of the year, Jackson stepped up and gave the capacity crowd of nearly 2,000 at Benson one of the more dazzling performances in recent history. Benson, who handed Wilson a 71-70 loss at Wilson Jan. 10, is a very good team who lost their composure in the third quarter onslaught.

"It just came down to who wanted it more, said the confident Jackson. "And I'll be damned if we were going to lose six in a row."

The Techmen don't have the talent of a Wilson or Jefferson, but usually play together and unselfish enough to overcome the mismatches. Last Friday, the Techmen didn't call any timeouts during a 19-3 run and had no answers for a young man having the best game of his young career.

"I wanted this game more than anybody on the floor and I think I showed it," said Jackson.

Jefferson (10-3) looks to have a lock on the third spot in the PIL with a 73-63 victory over Franklin (5-8). Tyrone "T-Bone" Hammick poured in 28 for the Democrats and smooth moving Demetries Hardin added 19.

Brandon Earlandson led Franklin (5-8) with 16. Roosevelt (7-6) squeezed by lowly Madison (1-12) 71-64 with Adam Porter leading the Roughriders with 21 and Scott Millage adding 14.

Marshall (7-6) stays in the hunt and all but eliminated Grant (5-8) with a 73-64 victory over the Generals. Aaron Goulet led Marshall with 26 points and Timmy Owens led the young Generals with 19.

EAST WINS, JORDAN MVP

Michael Jordan may have won the MVP award, but it was the Magic that stole the show.

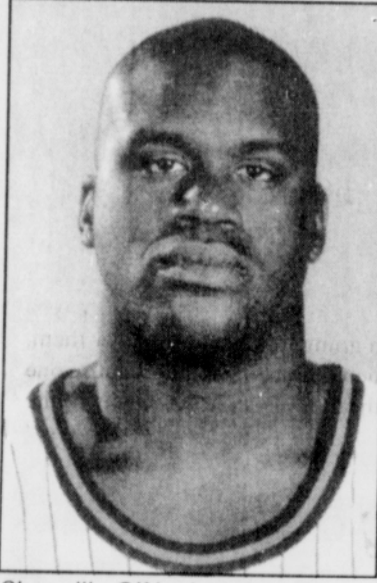

Shaquille O'Neal of the Orlando Magic scored 11 of his 25 points in a pivotal third quarter and his Magic teammate Penny Hardaway made consecutive three-pointers to stop a Western Conference rally as the East posted a 129-118 victory Sunday in the 46th annual NBA All-Star Game at the Alamodome in San Antonio.

Jordan and O'Neal combined for 14 points in a 21-6 third-quarter run as the East opened up a 22-point lead after three quarters, 102-80. Jordan had eight of his 20 points in the third quarter and picked up his second All-Star MVP. Jordan, who was 8-of-11 from the field, won his other award in 1988.

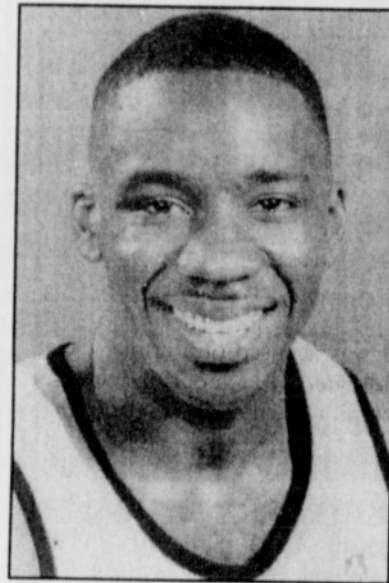

"I didn't want to overshadow anyone," said a modest Jordan about the award. "I was just basically trying to fit in. It's a great honor to even be considered and an even greater honor to win."

O'Neal made 10-of-16 shots from the field and grabbed 10 rebounds for the East. He put an exclamation point on his performance with a one-handed dunk over Western Conference and host center David Robinson of the San Antonio Spurs late in the contest.

Hill had 14 points and Portland resident Terrell Brandon of the Cleveland Cavaliers were the only other Eastern Conference players to score in double figures with 11 points. The East's starting five of O'Neal, Jordan, Hardaway, Scottie Pippen and Grant Hill outscored the Western starters — Charles Barkley, Shawn Kemp, Hakeem Olajuwon, Clyde Drexler and Jason Kidd — by an 85-43 margin.

Robinson and Gary Payton of the Seattle SuperSonics led the West with 18 points apiece.
