

Police News Inmate Suicide Discovered

On June 23, 1996, at approximately 5:24 p.m., a MCSO Corrections Deputy heard a loud bang in their housing post assignment. The Deputy determined the cell responsible for the noise and discovered a severely injured inmate. The Deputy radioed for immediate medical assistance to respond to their location. MCDC Corrections Medical arrived to determine the nature of the medical assistance call initiated by the Deputy.

MCDC staff telephoned BOEC and advised them of the situation at 5:25 p.m. EMS was dispatched and arrived at the Multnomah County Detention Center [1120 S.W. Third, Portland] at 5:27 p.m. MCDC is a maximum security jail in downtown Portland, consisting primarily of Booking and Housing operations.

EMS personnel were escorted to the assigned Housing floor and after conducting a medical assessment, determined the inmate was deceased. The inmate was pronounced dead at 5:42 p.m. The cell was sealed off and the Multnomah County Medical Examiner was contacted and notified of the death. The Medical Examiner, a MCSO Law Enforcement Deputy, and MCS, Detectives all responded to MCDC to investigate the inmate suicide.

The Medical Examiner determined that the inmate died as a direct result of a self-inflicted injury. No suicide note was discovered at the scene.

Naito Parkway

In a symbolic gesture, Mayor Vera Katz and members of a committee working on an appropriate memorial to the late Bill Naito, unveiled a new street sign on Front Avenue displaying the proposed new name, "Naito Parkway". The name took affect 30 days after a City Council vote and public hearing. The name change affects Front Avenue from N.W. 15th Street to S.W. Barbur Boulevard.

Speaking at the event were Mayor Katz, Commissioners Gretchen Kafoury and Charlie Hales, Sam Naito (Bill's brother), Ruth Scott, President and CEO of the Association for Portland Progress, and Sam Brooks, Executive Director of the Oregon Association of Minority Entrepreneurs.

"I wholeheartedly support the committee's recommendation for the renaming of Front Avenue in Bill's memory," said Mayor Katz. "People traveling this roadway will have constant reminders of Bill along the route—from the Japanese American Historical Plaza, which he took a leadership role in developing, to the McCormick Pier Apartments, Albers Mill—to Old Town and his vision for the emerging River District. His signature can be found all along Front Avenue," she added.

I don't know the key to success, but the key to failure is trying to please everybody.

How Could You Not Have A Job?

component of the unemployable", she looked up to behold my ebony countenance -- the only black in a 100 member lecture class.

Needless to say, I became exceedingly agitated by this experience -- and energized. I got Mr. Lucious Hicks to engage my services as a business instructor at the Portland State University Albina Extension Center where he was the administrator. So, in addition to my daytime classes, I was now teaching a night class on Union Ave. (MLK Blvd.). To bring a pragmatic note of reality to the class I brought in Mr. Conrad Rosing, the Vice President and former chief loan officer of the U.S. National Bank to team teach with me.

The combination of my years of real-time business and accounting experience and Mr Rosings 'insider' background in the banking industry worked very well in the delivery of structured input that resulted in some successful business enterprises. There were other timely moves of a nature that can be profitably used today. If there is to be even further attrition in jobs -- and today's spurt is just a temporary gain for the few -- then, we need to be about improving our financial position with all possible haste. Con't next week.
