PICA Presents PureMovement

The Portland Institute for Contemporary Art (PICA) presents Philadelphia Hip-Hop dance troupe, Rennie Harris PureMovement, Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. at the Aladdin Theater. A pioneer in the performance, instruction and evolution of Hip-Hop dance, Rennie Harris has created a dance style that has emerged from the club scene to find a cogent voice on the concert stage. Tickets are $15 and may be ordered in advance by calling PICA at 242-1419 or purchased at the door.

A native of Philadelphia, Rennie Harris is self-taught and versatile in all forms of Hip-Hop dance, including Stepping, Poppin', Animation, Locking, Electric Boogaloo, Breakdance, Hip-Hop and House. He has lead such popular dance ensembles as Step Masters, Magnificent Force and the Scanner Boys and has received numerous awards and fellowships for choreography

Interactive Children's Concerts

Hosted by Lars Larson of KPTV, Oregon's 12, the Portland Youth Philharmonic Preparatory Orchestra will present two Children's Concerts on March 4, 1997, at 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon in the Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall in Portland.

These concerts will be broadcast live via satellite to thousands of students in schools throughout Oregon via Oregon ED-NET, in addition to the 5,000 in attendance. Each concert will include a two-way audio question-and-answer session between the performers (Conductor Huw Edwards and members of the Preparatory Orchestra) and students both in the hall and across the state. Questions will come from schools in Jordan Valley, Ukiah, Reedsport, Prineville, and Astoria. This project is a collaborative effort of the PYP, Multnomah Community Television, and Oregon ED-NET.

The concerts will introduce children to the instruments of the orchestra and the young musicians of the Preparatory Orchestra in a program that will include Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," "Hungarian March" of Berlioz, "Mars" from Holst's The Planets, selections from Prokofiev's Romeo & Juliet, and Sousa's The Stars and Stripes Forever.

These concerts are made possible by grants from U.S. Bank, Nortel, and the Collins, Irwin, Jackson, Lamb, Sequent, and Oregon Community Foundations.
