

SUMMER ZOO MUSIC

Wells Fargo Bank has stepped up as the presenting sponsor of the Metro Washington Park Zoo's summer-long series of outdoor concerts.

This year's series, which starts June 18, include Rhythm and Zoo on Wednesday and Thursday nights, and ZooBeat, an exciting new weekend series.

Funds raised from the series will benefit ongoing youth education programs at the zoo.

Since 1979, when the zoo first began presenting music, the park-like setting of zoo's concert lawn has become Portland's premier place for popular music.

The two series boasts an international lineup of cutting-edge performers that features some of the best-known names in blues, jazz, country, world beat, folk, and pop.

"Wells Fargo is pleased to support both of these concert series because they fit into our charitable giving goals," said Executive Vice President George Passadore, who heads Wells Fargo's retail branches in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. "We focus our charitable giving in K-12 education, as well as in enhancing the cultural opportunities for our communities. The zoo brings great musical talent to a family-friendly concert series that is a highlight of summer activities in Portland."

The weekday rhythm and Zoo series is an eclectic blend of musical artists that includes Booker T., Karla Bonoff, Asleep at the Wheel, Leo Kottke, Michelle Shocked, Riders in the Sky, Charlie Musselwhite and The Bobs.

The eighteen shows feature some of the most popular performers that have ever appeared at the zoo and some rising new stars.

ZooBeat presents some of the area's top concert draws and critically acclaimed acts at a very affordable price.

Richard Thompson, Emmylou Harris, Ottmar Liebert and Alison Krauss and Union Station will headline the weekend ZooBeat shows.

Drug mission nets 27 indictments

N.E. Precinct has completed a two month undercover narcotics mission with the indictments of 27 drug dealers and a total of 71 drug charges. Officers are currently in the process of arresting the indicted drug dealers on arrest warrants. Several of the indicted subjects are gang members or gang affiliates.

Plain clothes N.E. Precinct officers, along with informants, purchased narcotics from drug dealers in the area of N. Vancouver Avenue and N. Fremont Street over a two-month period.

N.E. Precinct uniform district officers, neighborhood liaison officers, and community input fueled the undercover mission. Along with N.E. Precinct officers, members of the Gang Enforcement Team (GET) and officers from the Drugs and Vice Division (DVD) assisted in the mission.

Downtown shooting arrest

Portland Police Detectives in cooperation with the FBI fugitive Task Force, Washington County Sheriff Office, and the Tigard Police Department arrested Daniel DeJesus, male Hispanic, DOB August 29, 1978, in connection with the shooting death of Kenneth Shanafelt.

At approximately 11:00 a.m. Thursday June 19, 1996 police arrested DeJesus at his place of employment inside of the Washington Square Shopping Center. DeJesus, a Tigard resident, was taken into custody without incident.

DeJesus is believed to be the shooter in the June 7th death of Vancouver resident, Kenneth Shanafelt. Shanafelt was in the company of his wife when he was fatally struck by a gunshot round while walking near SW 2nd Ave. and SW Salmon St. in downtown Portland.

The shooting is believed to have occurred as a result of a fistfight that escalated into a shooting situation. There were at least 10 individuals involved in the altercation when the shots were fired. DeJesus is believed to have gang affiliations in the Washington County area. Several of the others involved are also believed to be gang affiliated. Search warrants have been served and a handgun has been recovered. DeJesus is lodged in the Justice Center Jail.
