

POLICE NEWS

CRIMESTOPPERS

Body of 2-year-old Found in McKenzie River

LEABURG, Ore. (AP) - The body of a small boy believed to be 2-year-old Austin Gladden was recovered in the McKenzie River.

Gladden was presumed drowned when he fell into the water Sept. 4 while fishing with his father, 30-year-old Darin Gladden of Springfield, who drowned after diving in to save his son. They were fishing near Brown's Hole east of Vida.

Darin Gladden's body was recovered later that day.

A person who was fishing discovered the boy's body at about 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the river at Leaburg, the Lane County sheriff's office said. Searchers from the sheriff's office, who had been searching earlier in the day, returned to the area and recovered the body.

Kinkel Courtroom Lottery

Courtroom seating space for the trial of Thurston High School shooting suspect Kip Kinkel is going to be very limited.

The general public will have to go through a daily lottery system to get a seat.

The public will get 31 seats for the trial which begins with jury selection

September 27th.

The media gets 14 seats, and the other 25 seats will be reserved for victims of the shooting rampage. The Lane County Circuit Judge has issued strict rules intended to ensure courthouse security.

Everyone who attends the trial will go through metal detectors at the courthouse's front entrance and also at the courtroom door.

People will not be able to bring purses, bags, or even nail clippers into the courtroom.

Kinkel is charged with killing two students during the shooting spree a day after he allegedly murdered his parents, May 21st, 1998.

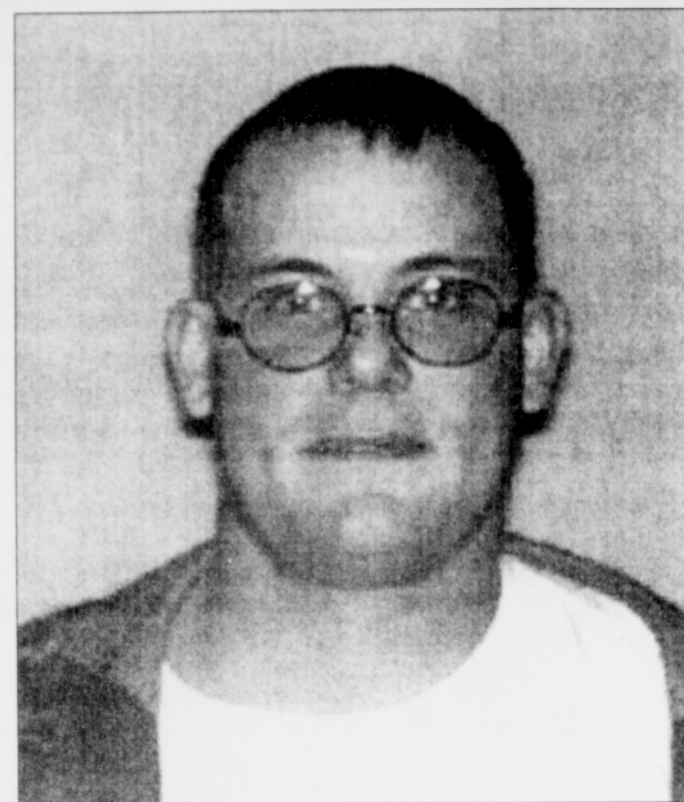

The Beaverton Police Department, in cooperation with Crime Stoppers, is asking for your help in identifying and apprehending the suspect involved in a scheme to pass "bad" checks throughout the Portland metropolitan area.

According to investigators, the individual was able to obtain fraudulent identification from the Oregon Department of Motor Vehicles in the names of Alex Earl Bally (D-O-B 1/26/76) and Shawn Adam Treke (D-O-B 1/25/75).

The suspect then used the identification to open fraudulent bank accounts, which were used to pass stolen and counterfeit checks. At one time the suspect was working with three other individuals in a group referred to by investigators as the "Million Dollar Club" because of the large amount of money that passed through the fraudulent accounts.

The suspect is described as a white male in his 20's, 6' tall, weighing 190 pounds.

Crime Stoppers is offering a cash reward of up to $1,000 for information, reported to Crime Stoppers, that leads to an arrest in this case, or any unsolved felony crime, and you can remain anonymous. Call Crime Stoppers at (503) 823-HELP.

Observing Vancouver

Neighborhood Resource Fair

Vancouver neighbors will gather at the 10th Annual Neighborhood Resource Fair Saturday, Sept. 25, at the newly renovated Hudson's Bay High School Commons, 1206 E. Reserve, to celebrate "Pathways to Partnerships." Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event will start with a bicycle ride led by Vancouver Mayor Royce E. Pollard and Bud Clark, former Portland mayor. Citizens are invited to join anywhere along the route. The ride begins at 9:30 a.m.

The route is:

- Capt. Vancouver Monument
- North on Columbia to Evergreen Blvd.
- East on Evergreen Blvd. to East Reserve
- North on East Reserve cross Mill Plain Blvd
- Arrive at Hudson's Bay (9:45 - 9:50 approximately)

Following opening remarks, attendees will have the opportunity to visit indoor and outdoor exhibits, demonstrations and workshops. Other highlights of the Fair include entertainment, door prizes, kids activities (including the Oregon Zoo Birds of Prey) and a free barbeque lunch. The Fair is free to Vancouver residents. Free childcare will be provided, but pre-registration is required. C-TRAN routes #30 & #36 will take people to the Fair. To volunteer or to register for childcare, call Neighborhood Services at 696-8222.

Fashion Show Spotlights Diverse Talents

Tickets are now on sale for the eighth annual "It's a Fashionable Life" fashion and entertainment productions, showcasing the talents of people of all backgrounds, ages and abilities. The event will take place at Luepke Center, 1009 E. McLoughlin

Blvd. in Vancouver. The show will be followed by a dance, from 8:30 to 10 p.m. tickets are $6 in advance and $8 at the door and are on sale from 8:30 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at the following locations:

- East Vancouver Indoor Sports

Center, 16311 NE 15th St.

- Marshall Community Center 1009 E. McLoughlin Blvd.
- Norris Road Community Center 2000 Norris Road.

Call Connie Irwin at 696-8218 for more information.

Children's Market

The Vancouver Farmers Market will be holding their 6th annual CHILDRENS MARKET. The young entrepreneurs will be testing the retail waters as they prepare to sell their own homegrown produce, flowers, and also handmade crafts. The young vendors are required to meet the same criteria as their adult counterparts. The Vancouver Farmers market charges a $1 table fee to the children and all proceeds from the space rent goes to the Vancouver Farmers Market Scholarship Fund. For information on becoming a Children's Market vendor please call Patricia Turner at 735-9541 or 737-8298. Applications can be picked-up on Saturdays from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. or Tuesdays from 3 p.m. - 7 p.m. and at City Hall 210 E. 13th Street in Downtown Vancouver. The Fort

Vancouver Antique Association will be hosting hay rides from the Vancouver Farmers Market Arches to the Old Apple Tree Celebration. The Fort Vancouver Antique Association will be displaying antique farm equipment as well

On stage will be the James black Burn Trio at 11 AM and the Stellar Fellars at 1 p.m.

Take The Chill Out

PGE Volunteers Team Up With Community Energy Project

Armed with caulk guns and rolls of heavy duty vinyl, more than 120 volunteers from Portland General Electric (PGE) will fan out over North and Southeast Portland this Saturday, Sept. 25, to weatherize homes for seniors and disabled citizens. The goal of the undertaking, spearheaded by Community Energy Project, Inc., is to weatherize 20 homes over the weekend and a total of 60 homes by the end of the year.

This event helps celebrate the 20th anniversary of Community Energy Project, a nonprofit organization that helps low-income families in Portland control their utility bills through self help, education and volunteer projects.

Since single-pane windows can account for one-third of the heat loss from a house, many of the volunteers will be adding window insulation; simple frames with heavy duty clear vinyl that fit over existing windows. They will also caulk around windows, add foundation covers and take other simple steps to help keep the heat in and the winter chill out.

"This is a project that really touches the heart," explains Vickie Rocker, PGE customer resource representative, who is coordinating PGE's volunteer effort. "It gives PGE employees a very warm feeling—helping those who unable to do the work themselves."

PGE has been a long-time supporter of Community Energy Project, having donated financial and technical assistance over the past two decades. Don Nuttbrock, a PGE residential energy specialist, and Community Energy Project board member for more than ten years, has guided previous, smaller-scale weatherization efforts.

"The people we help are so appreciative. They can't believe that someone would show up on their day off to help them out," says Nuttbrock.

Additional volunteers for this project are welcome. Training will be provided. Citizens interested in volunteering can contact Community Energy Project at (503) 284-6827.

Weatherization Volunteer Project

Groups of PGE employees will install home energy efficiency materials in the homes of twenty local senior citizens and disabled persons.

WHEN:

Saturday, September 25, 10:00 a.m.

WHERE:

The homes of Portland residents Mary Perce, 7425 SE Market & Ora Libke, 6229 SE 51st

PHOTO OPS:

Senior citizens open their homes to PGE volunteers installing vinyl storm windows, caulking and other weatherization materials.

Celebrate Y2K with a tree.

The future is in your hands. Or could be. In the coming months, grab a shovel and volunteer a few hours as a Seed the Future tree planter. You'll be making a contribution that will last long after January 1, 2000. Trees deliver clean air, water and unmatched beauty and livability to the community.

PGE is the presenting sponsor of Friends of Trees' Seed the Future campaign, a five-year effort to plant 144,000 trees throughout the Portland metropolitan area by April 22, 2001. In three years, more than 10,000 volunteers have planted 85,000 trees and seedlings.

Can you dig it? If so, join your neighbors and help usher in a new era of green for the next century. Call Friends of Trees at 284-TREE (8733).

Portland General Electric

CONNECTING PEOPLE, POWER AND POSSIBILITIES

(left to right) Dave, John and Craig Campa

John Campa Awarded Minority Business Scholarship

John Campa, owner of JCAMPAGraphics in Portland, has been awarded a 1999 Amos Tuck Minority Business Executive Program Scholarship Award. The award is presented to only one recipient nationally, by the Minority Business Development Group of the National Association of Purchasing Management. It gives John a scholarship to the prestigious Amos Tuck School at Dartmouth College. CAMPAGraphics was nominated for the award by the Oregon Lottery based on their outstanding customer service and attention to detail. This family-run printing operation has been in business for 22 years.

"The Oregon Lottery has provided my business with opportunities to grow.

We work very hard to provide the kind of service that clients should expect. I am very honored to receive this scholarship," said John Campa.

The Oregon Lottery congratulates John Campa and CAMPAGraphics.

It Does Good Things

www.oregonlottery.org