

THE NORTHWEST FILM CENTER PRESENTS

Cuba Inside OUT

1999 marks 40 years since Fidel Castro led the revolution that altered a political landscape that reached far beyond Cuba's borders. Ironically, it is also the year that Fidel's likeness is now in Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum. CUBA: INSIDE/OUT is a look at the country from within and outside its borders as it brings together a remarkable selection of post-revolutionary Cuban cinema in a wide range of styles.

SAT, OCT 9, 5 & 9 PM
GUANTANAMERA

CUBA 1994

GUANTANAMERA celebrates the contradictory nature of a country's politics and its people as it follows Yoyita, a Havana singer who returns to her small hometown after 50 years to rekindle a long-lost love. The kindling turns so hot that her love, Candido, dies with their embrace. This daring romantic comedy then turns to the business of bringing Candido's coffin back to Havana, a road trip full of misadventures as Yoyita and her growing entourage run head-on into the staple of Cuban life: adversity. Starring Mirtha Ibarra, Conchita Brando, Raul Eguren and Carlos Cruz, "the film's target is mindless, pig-headed bureaucracy. The weapons it brings to bear against it are romance, sexuality and irreverence." (110 mins.)

MON, OCT 11, 7 PM

THE ADVENTURES OF JUAN QUIN QUIN (LA AVENTURAS DE JUAN QUIN QUIN)

CUBA 1967

THE ADVENTURES OF JUAN QUIN QUIN is set in pre-revolutionary Cuba, where the flim-flam, jack-of-all-trades hero lives by his wits and ekes out an existence as, variously, a farmer, altar boy, bullfighter and circus act (as Jesus on the cross, no less). Godardian intertitles, animated sequences, and comic strips further enliven the anarchic proceedings. An encounter with cartoonish imperialists ultimately turns the hero into an anti-government guerilla. Espinosa conceived of the film as an accommodation between "serious" and "popular" art, as an attempt to combine movie entertainment with a subversive critique of old forms of movie entertainment. The result was one of the most widely seen films in Cuban history." (113 mins.)

TUES, OCT 12, 7 PM
HOUSE FOR SWAP (SE PERMUTA)

The desire for upward mobility in a country where everyone is considered equal is at the center of Tabio's clever satire and one of Cuba's most celebrated comedies.

"In a country with a severe housing shortage (where people exchange dwellings rather than sell them as their marriages break up and reform) apartment-swapping is fueled by heartthrobs, hearth-lust and sexual and social aspirations. In HOUSE FOR SWAP, a mother executes a complicated three-way housing swap to move her daughter to a neighborhood where she can meet a better class of boy. When her daughter gets engaged to a fast-talking man, she begins another round of swaps to win them a dream house. And of course no sooner is the plan in place than the lovers start swapping partners." (103 mins.)

"House For Swap" (Se Permuta).

"The Day You'll Love Me (El Dia Que Me Quieras)" will be playing on Friday, October 8 at 7:30 PM and Thursday, October 14 at 7 PM.
