Obituary

Volunteer Teacher's Aide Dead at 51

A memorial service was held Thursday, Oct. 26, 2000, in Sharon Seventh-day Adventist Church for Stephanie Jo Ewell, who died Oct. 19, apparently of a heart attack, at age 51.

Ms. Ewell was born May 28, 1949, in Lancaster, Pa., and was reared in Great Falls, Mont. She attended Walla Walla College and Georgetown University. In Washington, D.C., she was a volunteer usher for the Kennedy Center and a bookkeeper, bank teller and junior high school tutor and teacher. In 1970 she moved to Portland and was a precious-metals technician for Tektronix until the early 1980s. She was a volunteer teacher's aide for Portland Adventist Academy in the early 1990s.

Survivors include her daughter, Sara Smith; sons, William L. Smith and Brandon C. Smith; parents, Edwin and Jean Ewell; brothers, Derek M., Kent W. and Grant S. Ewell; and sisters, Traci K. White, Jamie B. Emelike and Candace B. Ewell.

Disposition was by cremation. The family suggests remembrances to the National Alliance of the Mentally III of Multnomah County. Arrangements are by Caldwell's Colonial Chapel.

A funeral was held Monday, Oct. 16, 2000, in Killingsworth Little Chapel of the Chimes for Hannah Krieger, who died Oct. 11 at age 81. Mrs. Krieger was born Sept. 20, 1919, in Tacoma. Her maiden name was Thaut. She was a homemaker who moved to Portland in the 1930s. In 1942, she married John Krieger; he died in 1993.

Survivors include her daughters, Barb Murray, Shirley Johnson and Betty Schwab; sons, Alvin, Edwin and Thomas; 15 grandchildren; and 14 great-grandchildren. Interment was in Willamette National Cemetery.

War Veteran, Longshoreman Dies

A funeral was held Thursday, Oct. 26, 2000, in Allen Temple CME Church for Cubby Earl Moody Jr., who died Oct. 18 of cancer at age 76. Mr. Moody was born Sept. 5, 1924, in Marshall, Texas. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and the Korean War. A Portland resident since 1949, he worked out of Local 8 of the International Longshore and Warehouse Union until retiring in 1983. He was a member of the church. In 1947, he married Alberta Coby.

Survivors include his wife; sons, Calvin E., Gabriel E., David L. and Matthew A.; daughters, Olivia L., Mary J., Anette M., Danna A., Gwendolyn A. and Susan Briggs-Mouton; 21 grandchildren; and eight great-grandchildren.

Interment will be in Willamette National Cemetery. Arrangements are by Caldwell's Colonial Chapel.

Funeral for Long Time Resident

A funeral was held Thursday, Oct. 26, 2000, in Rose City Funeral Home for Lela Mae "Mary" Sanders, who died Oct. 23 at age 78.

Mrs. Sanders was born Dec. 25, 1921, in Carrollton, Ala., and moved to Portland in 1944. Her maiden name was Redic. She worked for the Heathman Hotel for 10 years before retiring in 1987, and she was a former member of the Church of Christ. In 1944, she married Henry Sanders; he died in 1984. Survivors include her daughter, Carrie Harris; son, Willie; sister, Carrie Israel; and one grandchild. Interment was in Rose City Cemetery. The family suggests remembrances to the Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America, 1233 20th St. N.W., Suite 402, Washington, DC 20036.

Center Offers Help With Second Marriages

Thinking of getting married again but a little fearful? There is good reason to be concerned: 60 percent of second marriages fail and 70 percent of third marriages end in divorce also.

Now you can set your mind at ease and enter into that new marriage with valuable tools that will help your second or third marriage succeed.

The Northwest Catholic Counseling Center, which has been offering marriage preparation for the past 14 years, has created a remarriage program to help address the unique stresses and difficulties that face couples who are remarrying.

To find out more about this class or to register for the Nov 3rd and 4th class, call the Northwest Catholic Counseling Center at (503) 253-0964.

Concordia Theater Hosting Open House

Concordia University Theater is growing and improving every year.

College officials say big changes have been made and are inviting the public to a special open house on Dec. 1 in Concordia's Fine Arts Building.

"We want to show the theater off," officials said.

The informal gathering will begin at 6 p.m. with seasonal goodies and music provided by Concordia students and faculty. Then at 7 p.m., you'll enjoy a staged reading performance of the medieval mystery play, The Second Shepherds Play.

This short, but charming work tells the tale of three Shepherds experiences on the Yorkshire moors one cold Christmas Eve. Although, the play is almost 500 years old, it is as delightful today as it was in the 14th century.

After the show, there will be more treats and music. Throughout the evening, Concordia students will be guiding backstage tours of the Fine Arts Building. Come and enjoy an evening of Christmas cheer with Concordia University Theater.

Christmas Theater Open House and Second Shepherds Plays Dec 1, Friday 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. with performance at 7:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building at 27th and Highland on the Concordia campus.

Admission: free to students and Concordia faculty and staff. $3.00 for general admission. Please call 503-280-8614 for more information.

Achieving Optimal Health, God's Way

Area residents are invited to learn how to achieve optimal health, safely and naturally, God's way.

A lecture on the subject will be conducted by Rick Lee, a health educator and medical missionary, Thursday, Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. at Cascade Plaza, 4134 N. Vancouver.

Lee will talk about achieving optimal health by cooperating with the laws of health, established by the creator of the human machinery. You're invited to come and learn what these eight natural laws of health are from the word of God and how every disease can be traced back to the violation of one or more of these eight laws of health, organizers of the talk said.

Lee will discuss the absolute necessities in order to preserve, maintain and/or regain optimal health.

The topics include God's eight natural laws of health, the role of the digestive system in achieving optimal health, safe and natural weight management, nutritional requirements and why enzymes are a necessity, the circulatory system, strengthening a strong immune system, antioxidants, phytonutrients, and the latest scientific discovery, plant Sterols and Sterolins. Lee is the director of the Ministry of Healing. Graduating from the International Institute of Alternative Medicine, Philosophy and Research, with a Doctorate in Naturopathic Ministry, Master degrees in Nutrition and Herbal Medicine. Admission is free. If you would like more information, please contact Lee at 503-331-2538.
