

Notes

buy the tires on this special credit plan. Most stores are participating, and those that are will also eliminate the interest if you pay for the tires in full before the six-month period. If not, the interest will accrue from the date of sale.

"Motion Through Art" Winner

Charles Hudson (center), director of diversity marketing and special projects for DaimlerChrysler, and Janice Tarachowski, (second from left), senior manager of diversity and special projects, pose with the winners of DaimlerChrysler's "Motion Through Art" national art competition. (From left) James Griffin of Georgia (second place, $6,000); Dorothy Brooks Johnson of Maryland (third place tie, $4,000); Alan Hicks of Illinois (first place, $8,000) and D.L. Street of Illinois (third place tie, $4,000). The contest challenges artists to create artwork showing positive African-American lifestyles developed around the 2001 Chrysler PT Cruiser.

Chevy Gives Scholarships to Atlanta Students

Chevrolet Youth Choir with (far right) Ronte Smith, General Motors' regional sales manager/southeast.

As a result of the Stellar Gospel Music Awards Chevrolet Youth Choir Workshop Competition, five students were awarded $1,000 each in scholarships. The competition is a new component of the Stellar Gospel Music Awards.

The workshop competition was held in conjunction with the 16th annual Stellar Gospel Music Awards, to offer young gospel vocalists aged 14-19 an opportunity to improve their vocal skills through voice and music instruction, meet and interact with top gospel performers, showcase their talent and win scholarships.

The winners of the $1,000 Chevrolet "Excellence in Education" scholarship awards are April J. Johnson of Stone Mountain HS; Shaquita M. Rolland of North Atlanta HS; Jamil V. Willis of Northeast Health Magnet HS; Martez R. DuBose of Southwest DeKalb HS and Maurita K. Jackson of Benjamin Mays HS.

Lexus Donates A Car to the Civil Rights Museum

At the 10th Annual Freedom Award Banquet honoring Nelson Mandela, Michael Annis of Cordova, Tenn., won a Lexus IS 300 compact sports sedan.

The proceeds from the banquet and the donated Lexus benefit the National Civil Rights Museum's (Memphis, Tenn.) $9 million expansion project. The museum is located in the landmark Lorraine Motel, where Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated in 1968. Each year the museum presents a Freedom Award to an individual whose achievements in the struggle for civil rights have laid the foundation for achieving global freedom. For 2001, Nelson Mandela was the honored recipient.

Reaching Out to Focus: Hope

Automakers and suppliers have contributed nearly one-third of the $60 million raised so far for Focus: Hope, a Detroit community outreach organization that trains urban youth for jobs in the auto industry. The organization hopes to raise $75 million by September 2002.

General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and DaimlerChrysler Corp. are contributing a combined $11.5 million, while suppliers already have pledged $5.7 million.

Global Summit

(From Left) Gail Lewis; Delano Lewis, U.S. Ambassador to South Africa; Monica Emerson, director of staffing,

development and diversity; and Diana Mercer-Pryor, director of Operational Purchasing and Special Supplier Relations, DaimlerChrysler, joined more than 500 women leaders from across the world in Johannesburg, South Africa to explore global issues impacting women. The DaimlerChrysler Corp. was the lead sponsor of the 10th annual Global Summit of Women 2000: Africa.

Compiled by Jacqueline Mitchell