

Metro/Extra

The 2nd Annual Joyce Washington Scholarship Allstar Basketball Game

Grace Parks sings the national anthem

Mark Washington, chairman of Joyce Washington Memorial Scholarship Fund

Publisher Charles Washington of the Portland Observer with Melissa Jones, Athletics Manager of G.I.JOES

The Portland Observer Cory Cougars vs. Jammin' 95.5 Nike Big Ballers
Cougars Won 80-79, which gave Jammin' 95.5 their first loss of the season.
The charity game raised more than $2,000

The Joyce Washington Memorial Scholarship Fund is designed to assist minority high school students transitioning from high school to college with an interest in Business, English, Journalism or Athletics.

The Portland Observer Cory Cougars with Jammin' 95.5 Nike Big Ballers

Deadline: August 31 2001
Award Amount: Monetary awards of up to $500 will be available and can be applied towards tuition or other college expenses. Application forms will be distributed from February until September.
Eligibility Criteria:
● U.S. citizens and minority living in North/Northeast Portland.
● A Senior high school student attending Portland Public High School.
● Have a minimum of 3.0 GPA or higher.
Application Requirements:
● Completed Scholarship information.
● Submit a High School Transcript.
● Write an essay on a topic of special interest related to your field of study. (Maximum of 2 pages typewritten double space statement).
Contact: Charles Washington
Portland Observer Newspaper
4747 NE Martin Luther King, Jr Blvd
Portland, Oregon 97211
503-288-0033
News@Portlandobserver.com

David Proby going for lay-up

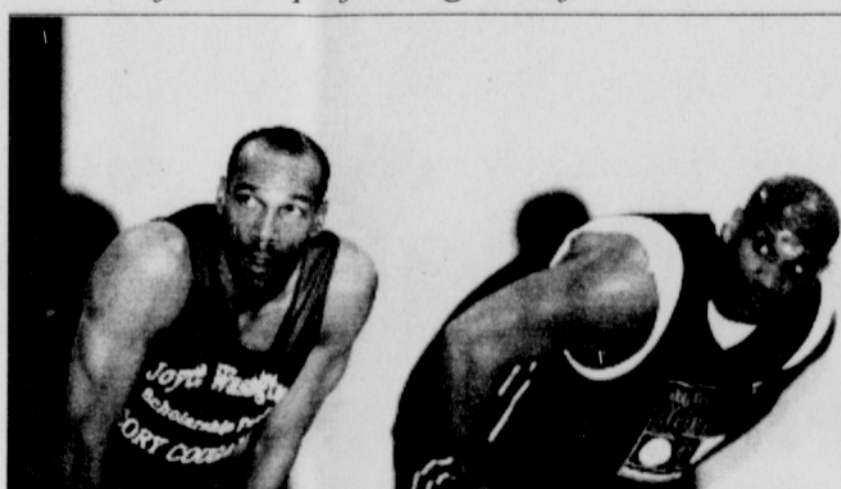

5's of Charm performing at half-time

Mario Devoe of Jammin' 95.5 Big Ballers

Jimmy Lee Holloway, Left Talking to Anthony Huff

Fred Boggan (left) of Cory Cougars alongside opponent Antoine Shired of Jammin' 95.5