Catwoman Casts Spell on Cinderella

New Adaptation of Fairy Tale Becomes Broadway Musical

Many generations have fallen under the spell of Rodgers & Hammerstein's enchanting musical "Cinderella," first shown on CBS television in 1957 starring Julie Andrews, remade with Lesley Ann Warren in 1965, and most recently seen in 1997 with Brandy and Whitney Houston. Now this small-screen classic comes to life in a spectacular new adaptation by Tom Briggs with musical arrangements and supervision by Andrew Lipka.

Portland Opera and Fred Meyer bring "Cinderella" to the stage, as part of their Best of Broadway series. It will be playing at the Keller Auditorium from June 19 - 24.

Jamie-Lynn Sigler from HBO's hit series "The Sopranos" stars as "Cinderella," with the legendary Eartha Kitt as the Fairy Godmother. Paolo

Montalban, who starred as The Prince in the highly acclaimed television movie of the week, "Rodgers and Hammerstein's Cinderella," reprises his role for this production.

Jamie-Lynn Sigler (Cinderella) is best known for her role as Meadow Soprano, a series regular on HBO's Emmy Award-winning show "The Sopranos," for which she received the 1999 & 2000 Hollywood Reporter Young Star Award for Best Young Actress/Performance in a Drama TV series.

Eartha Kitt (Fairy Godmother)

known throughout the world for her versatility and style, has been nominated for three Tony Awards, an Emmy Award, and two Grammy Awards. Her portrayal of Catwoman in the television series "Batman" continues to be seen worldwide, and her concert and cabaret career has taken her to over 100 countries where she has sung in ten different languages. Paolo Montalban (The Prince) has appeared in a variety of television and stage productions. In 1998, Paolo was named by "People Magazine" as one of the 50 Most Beautiful People.
