

One of the best parts about a job at Nike is the chance to work with so many stars.

We're talking about more than athletes; we're talking about the people here in Oregon who belong to organizations that enrich our community. Organizations and people like the ones listed below. You may never see their faces on a billboard or a cereal box, but we're grateful for the chance to see them every day.

Nike is proud to support the following organizations, and have provided matching donations for our employees who contributed their time and money to them during the past year.*
