their efforts. And in ways large and small the world has also benefited from their efforts," Poitier said.

Over the years, black actors have earned just 2.8 percent of Academy Award acting nominations, and only six have won, or 2.2 percent. Still, the Oscar track record shows signs of progress toward recognizing more blacks.

Four of black actors' six wins have come in the last 20 years.

Before Sunday, the most recent had been supporting-actor Cuba Gooding Jr. for "Jerry Maguire" five years ago. And black actors have earned 31 nominations since 1970, compared with just eight in the preceding four decades.

"I want to thank both Jim Carlile and Mike Hryciw for their contributions to the district. Jim came out of retirement to serve as an interim principal at Jefferson High School. Mike has been a well respected high school leader and strong contributor to Wilson's success. Portland Public Schools owes each Jim and Mike a debt of gratitude for a job well done," Scherzinger said.
