AT THE MOVIES

Morgan Freeman as Bill Cabot and Ben Affleck as Jack Ryan in "The Sum of All Fears."

The Sum of All Fears

When the president of Russia unexpectedly dies, he's replaced by an unfamiliar regime led by a new president who seemingly harbors hostility toward the U.S. As tensions mount between the two countries, Director of Central Intelligence Bill Cabot looks for insight from young junior agent Jack Ryan, who has little experience but tremendous knowledge of the new president. When a nuclear bomb strikes Chechnya, America is quick to blame the Russians, and the mistrust escalates despite Ryan's certainty that other players are at work. When a second bomb explodes during the Super Bowl, war seems inevitable... unless Ryan can find out whose behind the attacks and stem the tide of disaster in time. (Genre: action, thriller, spy, adaptation; Rating: PG-13)

Eddie Griffin as the Undercover Brother and Denise Richards as White She Devil.

Undercover Brother

A low-rent private eye with a '70s sense of style, Undercover Brother is the Robin Hood of the 'hood. As a covert agent in the all-black brotherhood, he sports big hair, big martial arts moves and plenty of attitude. But he faces a new mission as a sinister underground movement has unleashed a psycho-hallucinogenic drug that will turn the entire population into zombies. He turns in his cool shades and platforms for horn-rimmed glasses and penny-loafers as he poses as preppy nerd Anton Jackson to thwart his enemies. (Genre: live-action, adaptation, comedy, urban; Rating: PG-13)

Jake Hayes (Chris Rock) gets a little excited when he's recruited by CIA agent Gaylord Oakes (Anthony Hopkins) in "Bad Company."

Bad Company

Gaylord Oakes, a veteran CIA agent must transform sarcastic, street-wise punk Jake Hayes into a sophisticated and savvy spy to replace his murdered identical twin brother. He only has nine days to accomplish this "mission: improbable" before having to negotiate a sensitive nuclear weapons deal with terrorists. (Genre: action, comedy; Rating: PG-13)

Himalayan Dhaba

Surviving the Harsh Himalayan Life
Himalayan Dhaba
BY CRAIG DANNER
DUTTON; 2002

"Himalayan Dhaba" tells the compelling story of the emotionally damaged Mary, a recently widowed doctor from Baltimore. Hoping to put distance between herself and her pain, Mary leaves her medical practice in the U.S. for India to work with a mission doctor. Yet when Mary arrives at the hospital, she finds that the doctor has already departed, leaving her to be the sole medical provider in a remote village.

Through Danner's riveting prose, unique and flawed characters searching for spiritual rebirth all come alive against the backdrop of the breathtaking Himalayas.
