Daughter of Racist Turns to Diversity

slain children, it was a turning point in her life; she became a vigilant civil rights activist.

In 1981, Dorr worked to create a bill for a National Children's Day. She later teamed up with Ted Gunderson, the former director of the Los Angeles county FBI, traveling the country to educate others about hate crimes and cults.

The Sept. 11 terrorist attacks fueled her work to stop hate in all forms of racial discrimination and terrorism.

"Our organization wishes to bring peace into the world by dealing with these issues in our society," said Dorr, who now resides in Portland.

After five months of intense preparation, Dorr has organized an upcoming conference to open the dialogue about American prejudice, liberty and our children's future.

This event will be held in two sessions on Sept. 7 at the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, 3725 N. Gantenbein Ave. in Portland. The first part will take place from 6 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., covering the topic "Homeland Security: Our Children's Future." Afterwards, from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m., the discussion is on "Teaching Our Children the Courage of America's Heroes"

Many local and national speakers will be on hand.

For information or to register, call 503-901-KIDS or go online to www.honorthychildren.tv.

Staff Sergeant Christopher Braman consoles grieving children affected by the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. He will be giving his story of courage and valor from that tragic event to a Portland conference on Saturday, Sept. 7 at the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church.

In Loving Memory of Alton "Al" Lovincey
Sunrise: Sept. 16, 1926
Sunset: Aug. 29, 2001

If tears could build a stairway
And memories were a lane,
I would walk right up to heaven
And bring you back again.
No farewell words were spoken,
No time to say goodbye,
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
I was thinking of you with love today,
But that is nothing new:
I thought about you yesterday,
And days before that too.
I think of you in silence,
I often speak your name;
Now all we have are memories
And your picture in a frame.
Your Memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part.
God has you in his keeping,
I have you in my heart.
Love Forever, Your Wife
