Grandma Maud's

Grandma Maud's story begins around the dinner table. Cooking delicious Southern fare for her six grandchildren, Grandma Maud instilled into everyone the importance of good, hearty eating. Her beans, rice, sweet potatoes and greens propelled family and friends through the good and the hard times. Upon her death, one of the grandchildren realized that this heritage of full, rich cooking needed be kept alive. With this idea Grandma Maud's was born. Every time you add some flavor with Grandma Maud's

Southern Seasoning or whip up a batch of her Rice & Beans the memory of a great woman lives on.

Michele's Syrups

Growing up, Sundays at Michele Hoskin's (founder of Michele's Foods) grandmother's house meant homemade waffles slathered with the family's trademark Honey Crème syrup. Her mother eventually inherited the secret recipe and later passed it along to Michele. With the dream to share this delicate, rich syrup with the world, Michele's Foods was founded. Soon she added

Maple and Butter Pecan using the family Honey Crème recipe as a base, and with that four generations of family sweetness has become available for everyone to enjoy.

Giving  our best.
