Students from Grace Memorial Episcopal Church and Grace Academy recently created and donated two murals of acrylic paint on wood to Legacy Emanuel Children's Hospital.

Mural Depicts Good Medicine

Artists in training from Grace Memorial Episcopal Church and Grace Academy donated murals to Legacy Emanuel Children's Hospital, representing all the components of care and good medicine that kids look for.

The plaque beside the mural lists components of good hospital care for kids, including good support from family and friends.

The creators of the mural say they hope it will inspire doctors and patients alike.

Faith Leaders Speak Out on Iraq

(AP) — A national religious group representing 36 Protestant and Orthodox denominations said Tuesday that U.S. foreign policy is "dangerous" and urged President Bush to turn over authority in Iraq to the United Nations.

The National Council of Churches, which has been highly critical of the war, acknowledged that Christians disagree on the issue, but said that giving control to the U.N. was the only way to create "lasting peace."

"Many people see our policy as one based on protection of our country's economic interests narrowly defined, rather than on principles of human rights and justice that would serve our nation's interests," read the letter, which the council hopes will be read in churches nationwide. "We are convinced that current policy is dangerous for America and the world and will only lead to further violence."
